Hammarskjold Colonel Leary King Hussein

CRISIS BORDER — New crisis region is the border between Israel and Jordan, where UN Secretary Dag Hammarskjold is attempting to forestall threats to rights. Jordan's King Hussein demanded ouster of acting Palestine truce chief Col. Byron V. Leary, claiming Jordan no longer can co-operate with him on grounds he has sided with Israel. Several clashes have occurred along the Israel-Jordan border recently

Library Board Is Announced

City Council today appointed a board of seven trustees to supervise construction of a public library building and operate the library when it is taken over by the city from the Monessen Civic Library Association.

Appointed for three-year terms were John G. Check Jr., merchant, and Harry R. Pore Jr., co-publisher and editor of The Daily Independent.

For two-year terms: Sam D. Stern, merchant, and Charles C. Throop, Pittsburgh Steel Co. executive and current president of the Civic Library Association.

For one-year terms: Edwin A. Dawson, works manager of the local plant of Pittsburgh Steel; Dr. Ralph E. Plamer Jr., a dentist, and Margaret Russell, principal of the Washington elementary school.

All except Check are now members of the Civic Library's board of directors.

Plan Building

Mayor Hugo J. Parente said the trustees will be sworn in at any early date and instructed to proceed with plans for the new building on a Donner Ave. site now owned by Civic Library Association.

At the Nov. 5 election the voters approved a city bond issue of $200,000 to finance construction of the building.

When it is completed, the Civic Library will cease to exist and library service in Monessen will become a function of the city government with the board of trustees in active control.

Preliminary plans for the building have been prepared by Architect J. Russell Bailey, of Orange, Va. Bailey, a specialist in library design, is expected in Monessen Dec. 4 for a conference with the trustees. Planning for the new building to this point has been carried on by a committee of the Civic Library Association.

CHRISTMAS BONUS WINNERS — Here are three of the first four winners in the Christmas bonus program sponsored by Monessen merchants. From now until Dec. 21, a total of $100 in bonus certificates will be awarded to city shoppers. Norman Henderson, chairman of the city's Merchants Division, presented the initial awards to Mrs. Paul Ferrier, Box 214, Belle Vernon, $50 certificate; Mrs. Ella Talpas, 957 Donner Ave., Monessen, $25 certificate; and Mrs. Mary Sholtis; Belle Vernon R. D. 3, $15 certificate. The winner of a $10 certificate, Mrs. Anna Minniti, 548 Summit Ave., Monessen, is not pictured.

1½ Mill Jump; Two Big Bond Issues Passed

A proposed budget increasing the real estate tax in the city of Monessen by one and one-half mills was introduced today during a special meeting of council.

No other tax changes were proposed.

The budget lists both total receipts and total expenditures for the next fiscal year at $1,065,200. That represents an increase of $415,514 over the previous budget.

Two bond issues are included in the proposed figures. One of them is for $200,000 to cover construction of a public library. This bond was approved overwhelmingly by voters at the Nov. 5 election.

The second bond issue in the amount of $225,000 will be used mainly to pay for street and sewer improvements.

A resolution for this councilmanic bond was approved today shortly before the tentative budget was introduced. Reportedly, much of the money from the issue will be used in connection with the current Schoonmaker Ave. improvement project.

Wage Increases

Under the proposed budget, real estate taxes in the city will be increased from 9.5 mills to 11 mills. Eight mills will go into the general fund; three mills in the sinking fund.

Previously, 6 and 5-6 mills went into the general fund and 2-2-3 mills into the sinking fund

The new budget also includes wage increases for both salaried and hourly city employes.

A three-and-a-half per cent increase was written into the budget for salaried workers while an approximate six cent per hour increase was listed for hourly employes.

Under the tentative hourly scale, laborers will receive $1.88 per hour; drivers will get $1.97 per hour and heavy equipment personnel $2.08 per hour.

The budget describes the city's total real estate assessment as $36,100,000, which represents an increase of $900,000.

By increasing the real estate levy, Council anticipates $285,000 in revenue, compared to just $237,700 collected this past year.

However Council expects a drop in revenue from the wage-income tax. This past year, $267,000 was collected from that source. The proposed budget anticipates only $248,000 in wage-income taxes.

Economic Decline

According to Council, the figure was arrived at after consultations with representatives of industry in the city who reportedly predicted a slight economic decline.

The proposed budget will be on public display at the City Building for the next 30 days, after which Council will act on it.

Before introducing the budget today, Council unanimously approved the councilmanic bond resolution in the amount of $225,000

In addition to work relating to the Schoonmaker Ave., project, the city also plans to use the money to improve as many streets, sidewalks and sewers as possible. Also included in the bond issues is the proposed establishment of a fire alarm system and the acquiring of land for library purposes.

Judge Weiss Spends $4,108 For Campaign

Judge David H. Weiss, Monessen, one of three Democrats elected Nov. 5 to the Westmoreland County Court of Common Pleas, has reported that his campaign expenses amounted to $4,108.08.

In a report to the County Board of Elections, Judge Weiss listed receipts and contributions towards his campaign at $3,807.11.

The Westmoreland County Democratic Committee spent a total of $68,736.56 to elect its entire slate of candidates at the November general election, according to its financial report.

The county committee listed receipts and contributions at $68,833.76 in its report and showed a balance remaining of $146.88.

Final date for filing election expense accounts is next Thursday.

Heavy Damage In Thanksgiving Day Accident

Details of a Thanksgiving auto accident were reported today by Monessen police.

Considerable damage but no injuries resulted in a collision at Grand Blvd and State Rd. Police said the cars were operated by Andrew F. Lorinchak, 119 Middle St., Fayette City, and Edith Frederick, 4th St., North Charleroi.

According to the police report, Miss Frederick was making a right turn from Grand Blvd. where her car struck the auto of Lorinchak, who had stopped at the intersection.

Miss Frederick was operating with a learner's permit but was accompanied by a licensed driver, police said.

Navy Plane Makes Antarctic Ditch

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica (UP) — A U.S. Navy transport plane carrying 14 persons, including Operation Deepfreeze commander Rear Adm. George J. Dufek, made a hazardous but safe landing here Friday night with one engine aflame and its ski landing gear crooked.

Ground crews stood by with fire fighting equipment as the huge R-4-D Skytrain came in for the landing with fire spurting from its starboard engine and one ski cocked at a 60 degree angle.

GOP to Meet Friday To Choose Candidate

The Westmoreland County Republican Committee will meet in Greensburg next Friday to select a candidate for the congressional seat left vacant by the death of Rep. Augustine B. Kelley.

County GOP chairman Edwin A. Swank said that notices of the meeting will be mailed to the party's 567 committee members. He added that committeeman will be permitted to cast votes by proxy.

The special election will be held Jan. 21. That date was formally designated today by Gov. George M Leader.

In compliance with state law, the governor issued a writ of election to fill the congressional vacancy.

Swank indicated that the Republicans will meet in the Penn Albert Hotel since the Greensburg High School auditorium will not be available.

Several Mentioned

Several Republican names have been mentioned for the nomination, one or them a newcomer. He is Richard F. Miaskiewicz, of Jeannette.

Miaskiewicz, an employee of the Elliott Co., is active in civic affairs in Jeannette, which is also the hometown of the probable Democratic nominee, state Senate Minority Leader John H. Dent.

Another Republican name to appear recently is that of Fred Humphrey, a Greensburg business man who has little political experience.

According to reports, two other Republicans — both well known to county voters — are considering the candidacy They are Attorney Robert H. Rial of Greensburg and County Commissioner Smith McKee Jr., of New Kensington.

Neither has stated definitely

Former Fayette Athlete to Face Murder Charge

Joseph Watreas, 29-year-old former Masontown High School football player, will appear in Fayette County Court on Monday to answer a murder charge.

Watreas was indicted last September for the murder of Alvie O. Partridge, elderly Masontown grocer, on July 29. The suspect fled the region and was subsequently captured by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Miami, Fla.

Watreas will be defended by attorneys Anthony Cavalcante and Alex Z. Goldstein. The defense has hinted that the case will be long and involved.

One reliable source predicted that it may take three and possibly four days to decide on a panel of jurors before the case actually gets underway. The jury selection will start Monday.

Watreas has spent the past three months in Fayette County Jail, Uniontown.

Prior to his capture, Watreas found time to marry a Vanderbilt girl, Audrey Clark. Meanwhile he had left an unaware wife and child at his Masontown home.

His wife has visited him once during his stay in jail, while Miss Clark has ignored him completely. Watreas' sister and mother have made regular visits to his cell.

No Parking on North Donner

Effective Monday morning at 7 o'clock, no parking will be permitted on the north side (railroad side) of Donner Ave. from Oneida to Sixth Sts., Monessen, Chief of Police Michael Kuvinka said today.

The chief said the parking ban is necessary to allow the state Highways Dept to complete its resurfacing of Donner Ave. Monday work crews will move in to put a sealing substance between the blacktop material and curbing.

Until this work is completed, no parking will be permitted on the north side from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Another Snag in School Jointure

The proposed Charleroi area school jointure has run into another snag.

Fallowfield Twp.'s Board of Education voted this week to rescind its previous approval.

The township directors said they weren't opposed to jointure but they wanted time to express some objections to the tentative contract which was revised recently on recommendations by other school districts.

Robert Hagar, supervising principal at Fallowfield, has been one of the leading figures in the jointure proposal.

Car Stolen for About Six Hours

A car belonging to a Monessen man was stolen for about six hours today, police reported.

Shortly after midnight, Domenic Mandarino, 552 Chestnut St., told police his 1957 model car had been stolen from in front of his home. At 6 a.m., he called back to say the car had been returned.

Ike Roots for Army Team In Big Game with the Navy

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP) — President Eisenhower, home to recuperate in the laughter of his grandchildren, rooted today for his beloved Army cadets to tame vaunted Navy in their annual fall football classic.

The President, like millions of Americans, planned to watch the televised game between the two service schools in which the West Pointers were six point underdogs.

Eisenhower had no other plans scheduled today. Accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, he drove from Washington Friday to his farm home here in the heart of this picturesque Pennsylvania Dutch countryside for a long Thanksgiving weekend.

Taking It Easy

The President was taking it easy. The latest medical bulletin, issued Friday, continued to report that he was making "excellent" progress in recovering from a slight stroke of last Monday.

The President's physician, Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, who usually stays at a nearby motel when accompanying the President to Gettysburg, was quartered at the farm home for this trip.

The weatherman predicted more fair skies and mild temperatures this morning which might tempt Eisenhower out of doors again for another look around his 496-acre farm. He took a 70-minute tour by car and foot Friday around his sun-splashed acres.

Might Show Tricks

He also might decide to show his grandchildren a trick or two on their horses today. Two of the children — David, 9, and Susan, 5, —rode their horses before his arrival Friday, Susan with the help of a secret service agent who helped her keep her balance

The President's son, Maj. John Eisenhower and his daughter-in-law Barbara were also here at their nearby home with their other two children, Barbara Anne,

Seven Charleroi Youths Arrested In 'Gang War'

Police have arrested seven Charleroi High School students on charges that they beat four California youths with rubber hoses.

The beatings were apparently part of a teen-age "gang war" which followed last Friday's Charleroi-Brownsville football game.

Six of the Charleroi boys were arrested Wednesday night by California police as they cruised through the up-river borough in an automobile. When police investigated, they found four one-foot rubber hoses in the car.

The beatings started last Friday following the football game. A California youth was hosed when two Charleroi boys forced him into their car, police said. On Monday, three California teen-agers were beaten by a gang of five Charleroians.

Police said a group of California youths apparently retaliated by smashing the window in the home of the grandfather of one of the Charleroi boys.

All of the youths were turned over to their parents, pending action by Washington County juvenile authorities.

Police said the Charleroian boys were from "good" families.

Stay at Home

SHREWSBURY, England (UP) —Ten-foot posters have been placed all over town asking the 47,000 residents to cross roads only at zebra-striped pedestrian crossings. The town does not have any zebra-striped pedestrian crossings.

Reed Picks Up N. B. V. Votes in Ballot Recount

James Reed, North Belle Vernon council candidate, pulled to within 6 votes of upsetting incumbent Tony Stringhill as ballot recounts got under way yesterday in Westmoreland County.

Ballots from the first precinct were retabulated yesterday with the second precinct retabulation to begin this morning.

Judge Richard D. Laird, who ordered the recount, said he acted on petitions filed by groups of taxpayers who charged errors by the election boards.

According to the unofficial returns, Stringhill polled 362 votes in North Belle Vernon's first precinct and 312 in the second. Reed's totals were 388 in the first and 276 in the second.

Corrected figures following yesterday's recount showed Stringhill with 10 less, 352 and Reed with 6 less, 382.

Originally the election board in the first precinct had tossed out 3 ballots, while the recount board tossed out 21 ballots.

Four council seats were at stake in the November election. Three of the winners polled large pluralities in the unofficial count.

The successful candidates were William Mascara with 1013 votes, Homer Zucconi with 929 and Charles Klisowski with 769.

Hit-run Traffic Accident Reported

A hit-run traffic accident was reported to Monessen police today.

Trolley Workers Turn Down Company Offer

t PITTSBURGH (UP) — Pittsburgh Railways Co. employes, on strike since Oct. 14, cast an overwhelming vote Friday in favor of rejecting the latest company contract proposal.

The strike, longest mass transportation walkout in Pittsburgh's history, entered its 48th day today with no end in sight.

Barring an unexpected reversal in the position of either side, the city faced a Christmas shopping season marked by daily traffic jams brought on by the lack of buses and trolleys. City Traffic Engineer Michael Gittens said automobile congestion in downtown on Friday was the worst of the year.

Despite the strike, department stores said Christmas shopping thus far was ahead of last year.

The bus and trolley operators, members of Division 85, Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railways and Motor Coach Employes, voted 1,249 to 83 in secret balloting to turn down the company offer. Union leaders had recommended rejection.

The proposal called for progressive wage increases totaling 26 cents an hour in a three-year contract. The union has demanded 36 cents an hour in a two-year contract. The pre-strike base rate of the bus and trolley operators was $2.10 an hour.

Gilbert Teitel, union business agent, said he could see no possibility of resuming negotiations in the "immediate" future. He was expected to submit a counter-proposal to company negotiators.

"I'm very gratified about the vote." Teitel said. "It just goes to prove that the membership of this union is fed up with what has been going on for the past four or five years. Before these men sign

Beat the Jams—Use Parking Plazas

Shoppers and others visiting downtown Monessen during the pre-Christmas season will do themselves and others a favor by driving directly to one of the off-street parking facilities.

The main plaza is reached from either Donner or Schoonmaker Aves. or from Fourth St. Space is almost always available in one of the three levels and parking is safe and convenient.

Convenient off-street parking is also available at Third St. and Schoonmaker and Third and Donner. Both areas are well lighted, policed and metered.

Downtown Monessen is a busy place these days. But seldom so busy that a convenient parking space is not to be had promptly if the motorist proceeds directly to one of the off-street facilities.

Beat the traffic jams. Enjoy your Christmas shopping. Don't waste your time and that of others by hunting for a curb parking space that probably isn't there.

Sir Winston Churchill 83 Years Old Today

LONDON (UP) — Sir Winston Churchill celebrated his 83rd birthday today, his once-powerful body bowed under the weight of the years.

The statesman, who guided Britain through its "finest hour," took time out from work on the last volume of his massive four-volume "History of the English-Speaking Peoples" to observe the anniversary.

It was a quiet celebration at the Churchill home at Chartwell in the country near London. Only members of the family and Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, the victor of El Alamein, shared in the celebration.

Churchill no longer has the physical strength for prolonged festivities. The years have taken their toll of the sturdy frame which served him in his adventure-filled career from the Boer War through World War II

Montgomery, almost as flamboyant a figure as his former

Sir Winston Churchill

chief, disclosed he was greeting the old warrior with the Churchillian phrase: "Sir, I salute you with 83 salvoes from a hundred thousand guns."

Fayette Firemen Hold Test Today

Belle Vernon Fire Co. No. 2 is participating in a Fayette County group test of all radio activated sirens used by county fire departments. The first one was held today at 1 p.m.

Additional tests will be conducted each Saturday afternoon at the same time until further notice.

The radio contact is one of the most modern systems in effect among county firemen.

School Boards Make Plans for Reorganization

According to Pennsylvania State law all school boards are required to meet the first Monday of December for the annual reorganization.

The four component boards of the Bellmarette School District: Belle Vernon, North Belle Vernon, Washington Township and Fayette City are making plans for this session.

The Joint Board has set the annual reorganization to take place on Wednesday, Dec. 4. This session will replace the regular business session which should be held Tuesday, Dec. 10.

Only one new member will be taking his place on the Joint Board. That is Michael Yencsik, who was elected to the North Belle Vernon Board, to replace Dr. Harold Underwood, unsuccessful candidate for re-election.

Local boards will hold their individual meetings and elect officers on Monday.

Vernon PTA at County Meeting

Vernon Parent Teacher Association was represented at the recent session of the southern area of the Westmoreland County Council of the PTA, which was held in Sutersville.

Local people attending were Mrs. James Price, Mrs. Jesse Myers, Mrs. Bruno Biagini and Mrs. Robert Johnston, president of the Vernon unit.

Marion Church Ladies Society Holds Meeting

The Ladies Missionary Society Church met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Wilson and Mrs. Ruth Beazell, who were hostesses.

Mrs. Thompson Kirby, president, opened the meeting with the theme of the month, "Christ's Way Every Day—Worship in Word and Deed." The women then joined in singing the hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy."

Mrs. Kirby then gave a talk on the topic for the month, "Our Part in the Labor of Love in the Church." Assisting in this part of the program were Mrs. Carl Russell, Mrs. Thomas Liptrot, Mrs. J. R. Crago and Mrs. Thomas Dent.

Mrs. James read an article on "The Opportunity Projects." Mrs. Russell reviewed a chapter of the Bible study book, "Christ's Teachings on Citizenship—By What Means."

Mrs. Mary Bennett presented the yearbook of prayer, and offered a prayer for missionaries.

Appointed to conduct the yearly audit were Mrs. Robert Hamer and Mrs. Richard Stewart.

Routine business was followed by a social hour and the serving of luncheon.

Eleanor Whitlatch of Brownsville has been visiting for the past few days with her grandmother, Mrs. Grace Westcott of Vine St.

Jean Gillespie of Lynnwood and Kathryn Jones of Monessen left on Wednesday for a two week vacation at Alhambra, Cal., where they are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Williams and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Stella Valdiserri of Broad Ave. are visiting in South Bend, Ind. with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Valdiserri and their children. Mr. Valdiserri is employed at Notre Dame University as secretary to Terry Brennan, football coach.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Andreis visited in Belle Vernon with relatives for several days. They were enroute to their home in Warren, Ohio, after vacationing in Miami, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Guadagnino of Grant St. visited on Thanksgiving day with relatives in Pittsburgh.

Belle Vernon American Legion Post 659 will meet on Monday evening in the Post Home at 8 o'clock in regular session.

Only the Cops

NEW YORK (UP) — "Are you guys from the mob? Are you here to rub me out?" Aaron Lederman asked his callers in a shaking voice. He appeared downright pleased when the men identified themselves as Secret Service agents, come to arrest him as an alleged "important distributor" of counterfeit $20 bills. The agents said Lederman told them he was deeply in debt to loan sharks and feared they were out to get him quite outside the law.

Bethany Class to Hold Annual Party

Plans have been announced by the Bethany Bible Class Aid of the Marion Presbyterian Church for a Christmas party to be held next Tuesday evening in the church social rooms.

It will be in the form of a dinner to be served at 7 o'clock. There will be a program and a gift exchange.

The party will replace the regular meeting of the group which is usually held the third Thursday of the month.

St. Sebastian Bake Sale Is Announced

Women of St. Sebastian Roman Catholic parish will have their next bake sale on Sunday, Dec. 8. The women with names beginning with the letters N. to Z. will serve as the committee. This will be an anniversary bake sale marking the first anniversary of the dedication of the new church building.

Mrs. Agnes Soroka and Mrs. Amelia Vannucci are the chairman.

Greece gained her independence from Turkey in the war of 1821-29.

Sons of Union Veterans Aux. Holds Meeting

Ladies Auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lorena Godissart in Lynnwood.

There were eight members and two guests present. Guests were Clara Lewis of Pittsburgh, department president, and Edith Jackson of Pittsburgh, personal aide.

Mrs. Godissart as chaplain conducted the opening devotionals.

During the business session plans were made for a grocery party to be held on Jan. 3.

A brief program was presented. Mrs. Godissart read "Saloon Bar", and Lutritia Nutt read, "Friendship Time" and "People". Talks were given by Miss Lewis and Miss Jackson.

The social hour featured a Thanksgiving theme and dinner was served at an appropriately appointed table. Serving were Mrs. Elizabeth Keracik and Mrs. Eula Zundel, daughters of the hostess.

The birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Rhonda Cramer and Mrs. Emma Bertha MacDonald were observed, and they were presented with gifts and cards.

Civilian Defense Unit Here Continues Training Program

The Fayette City Civilian Defense Unit is continuing its efforts for a well organized group of workers in case of disasters in this area.

Previously the Unit set up first aid and welfare classes, as a result of which more than seventy-five persons were given credentials.

On Wednesday evening, the third group of the unit started its classes. Thirty Fayette City men registered for the Auxiliary police course.

The second lesson in the course was given today in the borough building with James Mahoney, assistant chief of the Uniontown police department, instructing the men in the typical crimes, detecting clues, judo, and all phases of policing.

The local group was joined by six men from Long Branch who asked to take the course. The delegation from Long Branch includes Lewis Winnett, James Guerra, James Young, Vincent Cooper, William Thompson, and Howard Pierce.

Registering from Fayette City were: Alvie Usher, police chief, Ralph Miller, director of C. D., Phillip Karcespy, assistant director of C. D., Jules Erderle, Leslie Coogan, Clayton Propes, James Moats, William Stewart Jr., Arthur Schroyer, James Osborne, Park Russell, Thurman Bailey Earnest Piesock, Henry Renstrom, John Bake, Dan Gardner, William Gardner, Richard Evans, Carl Frantz, Lawrence Kirkpatrick, Thomas Osborne, Joseph Stublarac, Metro Smerzniak, James Avery, Jack Lafferty, William Stewart Sr., Frank McKenna, Mike Yetsconish and John Park.

The entire group will meet each Saturday at the borough building for further instructions until the course has been completed.

Victims Happy

SEOUL, Korea (UP) — Moon Suh Kook, 27, was charged with fraud for selling 6,500 packages of colored vaseline as pomade, defined as a combination of apples, lard and rose water. Moon said the police shouldn't complain, because "my customers didn't."

St. Edward's Sodality Holds Meeting Here

The Sodality of Our Lady of St. Edward's Catholic Church met on Wednesday evening in the church social rooms for its regular monthly business meeting.

The acting prefect, Judy Nitauver, presided. Following the routine business the Rev. Charles Ribick gave a brief talk on the need for the reading of good books and pamphlets.

Miss Nitauver announced that the selling of Christmas cards and wrappings, a project of the Sodality, would be held every Sunday morning during the month of December immediately following the 8:30 and 10:30 masses.

A special meeting of the organization will be held tomorrow. The members of the Sodality will receive communion in a body at the 8:30 mass. After mass they will meet to elect officers in the parish hall for 1958.

Dorothea Rocca, who recently resigned as prefect, was named assistant moderator. Frances Vesely is the moderator.

Local Woman's Club Hostesses to Meet

The hostesses for the December meeting of the Fayette City Woman's Club will gather tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the clubrooms of the Community Center.

The group includes Mrs. Richard Auther, Mrs. John Traversari, Mrs. Frank Rihtarcik, Mrs. Read Brightwell, Mrs. Edwin Hindmarsh, Mrs. Clyde Wyatt, Mrs. James Hamer, Mrs. Patrick Hynes and Mrs. Vernon Smith.

They will make final plans for the Christmas Smorgasbord held in connection with the Dec. 9 meeting.

Hoodlums in New Jersey Must Explain Convention

Federal Agents Looking into State Visitors

NEW YORK (UP)—Delegates to the recent hoodlums convention in Apalachin, N.Y., were chafing under a three-state crackdown today.

New Jersey Atty Gen. Grover C. Richman Jr. ordered eight New Jersey delegates to appear before a grand jury to explain what they were doing at the ill-fated gathering at the mountain-top home of beer baron Joseph Barbara.

Two Long Island ex-convicts were reported to have put their own mansions up for sale.

And, federal agents are reported taking a closer look at the backgrounds of Apalachin visitors from Pennsylvania.

(Gabriel (Kelley) Mamarino, New Kensington racket figure, was one of those arrested at the convention. He claims he was just visiting a "sick friend", Barbara.)

Barbara, the host, struck back Friday against state liquor authority officials who have impounded the records of his beer and soft drink bottling firm He obtained a state Supreme Court order directing the liquor authority to show cause why it should not return the records.

Subpenaes Served

Richman had subpenaes served Friday on Vito Genovese of Atlantic Highlands, Gerard Catena of South Orange, Frank Majuri of Elizabeth, Louis Larasso of Linden, Anthony Riela of West Orange, Dominic Oliveto of Runnemede and Joseph Ida of Highland Park. Hearings will begin Tuesday.

One of the eight Ida, 67, an automobile salesman, has been cleared, however Officials said Ida told them he was invited to attend a "party" at Barbara's home by Oliveto

Nassau County authorities said "for sale" signs have popped up in front of the $250 000 mansion of Ben Levine, 53, millionaire garment maker who has spent time in jail for extortion and the home of Dominick Ciaffone, 53, convicted dope peddler Levine's home is near the $60,000 home of John Biello, 51, the first of Nassau County's delegates to surrender to a police pressure drive and offer his home for sale.

Levine, however, denied that his home was for sale or that he had any intention of leaving the county.

It was reported that FBI agents and immigration investigators are checking the records of several Pennsylvania delegates.

British Ship Hits Iceberg

LONDON (UP)—Britain's Antarctic exploration ship Shackleton crashed into a miniature iceberg and started sinking today off the Antarctic coast.

"Dumping cargo. . . got boats out. . ." the 1,100 town vessel reported in a message relayed to the British Admiralty by the British whaler Southern Harvester.

The Shackleton, with an estimated 50 persons aboard, said it struck the iceberg near the South Orkney Islands in the extreme South Atlantic and was headed toward Uruguay Cove on Laurie Island, one of the Orkneys.

Penn State Winner At Livestock Contest

CHICAGO (UP)—Prize livestock and sharpeyed college students shared the spotlight today at the 58th annual International Livestock Exposition.

The second of the nine-day stock and grain extravaganza, featured the collegiate livestock judging contest in the main amphitheater arena, while the collegiate grain judging contest was held in the exchange building.

Judging teams from 39 agricultural colleges and universities vied for prizes including wrist watches, trophies and cameras.

Also on tap was the judging of junior livestock feeding contest steers, Chicago Boys' Club steers, and the junior livestock feeding contest for barrows.

Friday, as a prelude to Tuesday's naming of the grand champions, judges tapped top cattle, swine and sheep in carass-on-the-hoof contests

Illinois exhibitors dominated the shorthorn division of the contest, with Malcolm B Tucker of Chrisman showing the champion and Mary Lou Wilson, of Champaign, reserve champ.

Pennsylvania State University won the Angus division and Lewter Feed Lots of Lubbock, Tex., captured top honors in the Hereford class B. Kelly and R. Rowe of Dallas Center, Iowa, showed the runner-up in the Angus division and Richard R Renck owned the reserve champ in the Hereford section.

Ohio Girl Winner

Barbara Lucy Londas, Navarre, Ohio, presented the champion in the pure bred, cross bred and other divisions with Dick Hopkins Jr, McNabb, Ill, showing the serve champion.

Ohio State University took top honors in the wether lamb carcass-on-the-hoof contest with a 105 pound crossbred lamb. The reserve champion, an 85-pound South down, was down by the University of Wisconsin.

The judges named a 210-pound Berkshire, owned by Milo Wolrab, Mount Vernon, Iowa, as the champion on-the-hoof among the swine entries while another Berkshire, owned by Harold Yake and Sons, Cardington Ohio, won the reserve championship.

Candidate

whether he intends to seek the nomination.

While the Republican race is very much in doubt, there's no question who will be the Democratic candidate.

Dent Top Democrat

Dent appears to have the nomination wrapped up. His only serious contender, Monessen Mayor Hugo Parente. yesterday removed himself from contention and threw his support behind Dent

Under Democratic party rules, the state executive committee selects the candidate That committee will meet Dec. 9, at which time Dent's candidacy will become official.

The special election will cost an estimated $30,000.

The congressional seat will also be at stake in this year's primary and general elections. The winner at the Jan 21 election will complete the unexpired term of Kelley, who served in congress for 17 years as representative for the state's 21st district

Kelley died on Nov. 20 at 74 in Bethesda, Md, hospital, after a painful cancer illness.

Ike Gets 'Neighborly Welcome Home' from Gettysburg Residents

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP) — President Eisenhower's home town gave him a neighborly — though belated — "welcome home" today.

Gettysburg Burgess William G. Weaver, caught off-guard, was out of town when the President arrived at his farm Friday. He sent a message today to the famous gentleman farmer down the road telling him how "glad we are that he is able to be with us again."

Weaver said the town fathers don't plan "any fanfare" such as the big celebration around the square when the President returned following his 1955 heart attack.

Weaver told a reporter, the townspeople "were terribly concerned when we heard about his illness." He said the welcome message sent on behalf of the town was the "kind you would send to any good friend who came back."

Even though the official welcome was a day late, some unofficial neighborly gestures were readied before the President's limousine turned into his farm gate Friday.

A local florist shop truck waited at the gate bearing flowers and "get well soon" wishes from the President's Gettysburg neighbors

Red and green Christmas lights strung with laurel in a huge canopy over the town square were lit Friday night for the first time.

David Blocher, president of the Retail Merchants Assn, said the lights were "sort of" scheduled to go on Friday night all along. He quickly added, "we might have done something extra special if we'd known sooner that he was coming up."

8, and little Mary Jean, who will be two next month.

They would help provide what Eisenhower's physicians prescribed for the President's recovery—the "home surroundings" they believed preferable to a hospital.

Supposedly Neutral

As Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces and as President, Eisenhower was, of course, technically neutral in today's inter-service football game. As usual, he was expected to send "good luck" messages to both teams.

But no one would question where his hopes lay, for Eisenhower as cadet at West Point wore an Army football uniform. He was a half-back until a wrenched knee made him give up the game.

There was no indication of when the President would return to Washington. A White House meeting has been scheduled for next Tuesday with Republican and Democratic congressional leaders to discuss plans for the coming session of Congress and the NATO "summit" conference in mid-December. A preparatory cabinet session will be held Monday.

Vice President Richard M Nixon said he would preside at the meetings if the President has not returned.

Churchill have poured in to his home from all over the world for days. Many came from the United States.

In a special message to his well-wishers, Churchill said:

"I should like to express my very warm thanks to all those who have sent me messages on my 83rd birthday. There is such a large number that I can not unfortunately answer them personally but it has given me and my family great pleasure to be remembered in this way."

Churchill drove the 30 miles from London to Chartwell last Wednesday after attending the wedding of his grand-niece, Sally, and making one of his rare appearances in the House of Commons.

Because of his deafness and his failing strength, Churchill no longer speaks in Commons. But he enjoys showing up occasionally to take his famous front bench corner seat below the gangway and listen to the House he dominated so long.

any contract, it's going to have to be a good and honorable contract."

Mayor David L. Lawrence, after learning of the vote results, scheduled a meeting in his office today of state and federal mediators.

Teitel said he recommended rejection because "wages are inadequate" and the proposal "lacks fringes and is too long." He said the company offered less in three years than the union felt was just and adequate for two years.

He said the sentiment expressed in the vote can be attributed partly to the refusal of C.D. Palmer, company president, to submit differences to arbitration.

Holy Communion Service Tomorrow

In observance of Advent season there will be a men and boys corporate Holy Communion service at Trinity Episcopal Church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning with the priest-in-charge, the Rev. David J. Dillon, as the celebrant.

This is also the final service to which the "brown bags" for St. Barnabas Home may be brought. They will be taken to the home early next week.

Some six and one-half million Americans now own common stock.

Men Rescued From Big Tank Near Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Two men who were overcome by fumes inside a big water tank 100 feet above the ground were rescued Friday night by firemen.

Firemen from Fox Chapel, O'Hara Township and Aspinwall used ropes, scaffolding and ladders to complete the arduous task of bringing the men out of the tank and lowering them to the ground.

One of the rescued men, Adam Roll, 35, Pittsburgh, was detained in Pittsburgh Hospital in fair condition.

The other rescued man, William Cook, 50, of the Locust Grove trailer camp near Etna, and a volunteer rescue worker, Melvin Hook, 29, Aspinwall, were treated at the hospital and released.

Roll and Cook were overcome while painting the inside of the tank, being built for the Fox Chapel Water Authority in Indiana Township. The tank is 40 feet in diameter.

When Cook did not return home from work, his wife became alarmed and called Fox Chapel police who climbed the high scaffolding and found the men unconscious at the bottom of the tank.

Fayette County Attorneys Plan Commission Probe

The Fayette County Bar Association will investigate the activities of the county's Planning and Zoning Commission, it was announced today.

Clark W. Martin, president of the Bar Association, said that a committee of attorneys has been named to conduct an inquiry into the power of the Commission. This committee will meet next Friday.

Martin said that Bar Association "is fearful that some of the work being done by the Planning and Zoning Commission will be detrimental to the sale of lots and exchange of real estate in Fayette County."

Named to the investigating committee were J.B. Adams, chairman, Ched L. John, J.E. Horwitz, Jesse E. Hutson, Hugh J. Lane, Joseph R. Rygiel and Charles L. Spurgon.

$76,719 Collected In New Kensington

New Kensington's Community Fund drive is only $2.700 short of its 1957 goal, it was announced today.

A total of $76,719 has been collected to date. The goal is $79,470

In Jeannette, the United Fund drive has reached $47,000. The goal there is 82,000.

Dinner Meeting Tuesday at CSTC

A joint dinner meeting of the California area branch of the Association for Childhood Education and School Administrators will be held next Tuesday at California State Teachers College.

The speaker and discussion leader will be Dr. Maurice E. Trusal, director of the Bureau of Curriculum Development in the state Department of Public Instruction.

Dinner will be served in the college dining hall at 6:30 p.m.

Too Many Cooks Stir Traffic Soup

THE MAIN reason, we suspect, that there seems to be so much difficulty and confusion about the management of traffic and parking in downtown Monessen is that too many cooks are trying to stir the broth.

It seems that every decision has to be pawed over by the City Council, the Traffic Commission, the Parking Authority, a Chamber of Commerce committee, and the merchants' organization, not to mention the numerous curbstone traffic engineers.

No doubt all of those people are sincerely concerned about the traffic and parking problems and are anxious to help find good solutions for them. Some indeed have a direct financial interest in such solutions.

But the regulation of traffic is a governmental function which cannot safely be entrusted to mass meetings however good may be the intentions of those participating. This function involves the exercise of discretion by the responsible authorities who have the power to act. And in situations where they need advice, it should be expert advice and not amateur kibitzing.

It was on the basis of expert advice and after long consideration that the city recently prohibited parking on one side of Donner Ave. in the main business district. And the experiment was a distinct success. It virtually ended the traffic jams; it encouraged greater public use of the off-street parking facilities, and it made downtown Monessen a much more pleasant place to visit.

But apparently the amateur kibitzers weren't satisfied. And they somehow managed to have the city reverse its decision and restore parking to both sides of Donner.

The traffic jams, of course, returned: the parking plazas are again poorly patronized; and a visit to downtown Monessen is again apt to be a frustrating experience.

THERE is a lesson here, we believe. It is that the city government should take charge of traffic management and should quit trying to please everybody all the time. That just can't be done and to try it is to invite chaos and public displeasure.

The city should also not lose sight of the fact, even for a day, that the streets are maintained for moving traffic, not for parking. It is never a solution of a parking problem to allow automobiles to be parked on a street already heavily loaded with moving traffic. That is the error which has been committed on Donner Ave., and it was committed against insistent expert advice. We trust the error will be corrected promptly and not repeated.

The Mayor's Decision

MAYOR Hugo J. Parente of Monessen has made the right decision, we feel, in declining to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress at the special Jan. 21 election in Westmoreland County.

The Mayor recognizes that he has some obligations to the people of Monessen as a result of his recent election to a fourth term. He obtained reelection on the basis of his participation in and leadership of a broad program of civic improvement which has barely gotten under way. And we agree with him that he ought to stay on that job.

Mr. Parente's choice for the congressional nomination is State Sen. John H. Dent. This is a logical enough choice from the standpoint of the Democratic organization, in which Sen. Dent has long been a leader. And it cannot be denied that Sen. Dent has had long experience in legislative work which would be useful to him in the national Congress.

But isn't it time for the county Democratic machine to be getting some new faces and fresh blood? The way it passes around its offices and honors reminds us of a game of musical chairs in which only a select few are permitted to participate.

Sensible voters, of course, will want to reserve judgment until both candidates are selected and have had a chance to present their views to the people on questions of national and international interest. We need men and women in Congress these days who are more than reliable party servants and who have the capacity for study of intricate issues, the judgment to make good decisions and the courage to act on their judgment regardless of political or other considerations.

Ike Should Let Nixon Take Over

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — In the opinion of this writer, who has observed many presidents in office, the best interests of the nation would be served if President Eisenhower retired in favor of Vice President Nixon.

Mr. Pearson

I write this not in criticism of Dwight D. Eisenhower, or in praise of Richard E. Nixon, but because of the dangerous crisis now facing the United States.

It is a crisis just as serious as that which we faced 16 years ago minus one week, when, on Dec. 7, 1941 the Japanese navy sent the backbone of our Pacific fleet to the bottom of Pearl Harbor, leaving the west coast completely defenseless. Had Japan followed up at that time, she could have taken over and occupied the entire Pacific coast, from Canada to Mexico.

Likewise today, our strength in missiles, submarines, and air power has so slumped compared with Russia that she could wipe out our major cities, lay waste our industry, and cripple us as a nation. Our long-range bombers could knock out some Russian cities in retaliation, but not many. The odds are heavily in favor of Russia.

This is a crisis which has drifted from bad to worse. It has been fully known to the White House for some time. When the Gaither Report, prepared by top businessmen, economists, and scientists, was given the White House, point ing out many of these same alarming facts, White House reaction was to hush it up. For fear of a leak, the committee was told to prepare only two copies.

Nixon's Vigorous Stand

Vice President Nixon, on the other hand, has seen the danger, has been vigorous and vocal in alerting the public. He has been even more vocal in backstage conferences. This writer has not been an admirer of Mr. Nixon's political operations, particularly his unfair, underhanded attacks on Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas and on such scientists as Dr. Edward Condon. It was Nixon who actually initiated McCarthyism four years ahead of the late Senator from Wisconsin. It was he who first drove out of government some of the scienusts we need today.

However, the United States now faces a crisis requiring quick, firm decisions. If Russia should go into the Near East, which seems more than likely, we face the difficult, crucial decision of whether to back up the Eisenhower Doctrine. This could mean war.

If Red China should now decide to fire on Quemoy or Matsu, we would have to decide whether to go to war against Red China. Under the Eisenhower Doctrine we are so pledged.

The Communist world now has the trump cards in its hand. It can make the next moves. We have to decide what we will do to counter these moves. This will require a firm, clear-thinking brain in the White House. Vice President Nixon has been firm, clear, and right of late in international policies. President Eisenhower, for all his kindliness and good intentions, has been slow, vacillating, timid.

If the President listens to his own good conscience and his own realization of the serious trend of world events, he will carry out his own pledge of March 7, 1956:

"Unless I felt absolutely up to the performance of the duties of the President, the second that I didn't, I would no longer be on the job. I have promised them (the American people) that."

Envies Queen Elizabeth

For some time prior to the President's latest illness, he had been talking enviously about the Queen of England and her relatively easy duties of laying cornerstones, opening Parliament, and holding court. Wistfully, he expressed the wish that the job of being President of the United States could be as simple as that.

Long before this, at about the time he was elected to his first term, Eisenhower had suggested to close friends that he would like to be like the President of France — chiefly a ceremonial officer. This is what Eisenhower does best. No president in years has surpassed him in grace and charm in making foreign dignitaries feel at home, being photographed with the truck driver of the year or with a winning high school oratorical team.

For a time after Eisenhower was first elected, the late Sen. Bob Taft of Ohio took legislative problems off Eisenhower's hands, and Ike was able to operate somewhat after the manner of the President of France.

Of late, however, as problem after problem has pressed down upon him — from the Little Rock crisis to our setbacks on satellites and missiles — the President has become more worried and talked more enviously about the soft snap enjoyed by Queen Elizabeth.

Today and Tomorrow—

A Solution for Eisenhower

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Most unhappily, the President has been stricken again, and this time at a very grave moment indeed in the fortunes of this country and of the whole Western world. It is a time which tries men's souls. It is one when the demands upon the President of the United States are exceptionally severe. Even the most robust President would find them a fearful strain, and for one who is an invalid they must be just about intolerable.

Mr. Lippmann

To all his other burdens, there has now been added the burden of deciding what is his duty, given the stark fact that for some time to come he must be spared hard work and that he will not be able in fact to do what is demanded of him. In a formal and narrow sense of the words it is no doubt true, as Mr. Nixon said at the White House on Tuesday, that the President is fully capable of making necessary decisions. But that is a long way short of being capable of formulating the policies which come up for decision, and of the leadership which is needed to carry them out.

Critical Period

At the best, we are told that the President "will require a period of rest and substantially decreased activities estimated at several weeks." These are the very weeks when the policies must be formed and the budgetary decisions taken which will constitute the response of this country and of the Western alliance to the challenge of the Soviet Union's technological achievements. How is this to be done while the President is resting and when his activity is substantially diminished.

This is the most necessary of all the decisions that must be made. There are three choices. One is to let the powers of the President be exercised in fact, though not in name, by the White House staff, by some of the more powerful members of the Cabinet, the military chieftains and the Vice President. This is what was done during the President's two previous illnesses. It is government by a committee which in effect means that the heads of the departments are subject only to a veto, exercised in the President's name, by the insiders at the White House.

This can be made to work at times when nothing much needs urgently to be done. But it is most certainly not a system which can form new policies and meet the demands of the critical time in which we are living.

Could Resign

The second course open to the President is to resign, basing his decision on his pledge at the press conference of March 7, 1956, that unless he "felt absolutely up to the duties of the Presidency," he "would no longer be there in the job." This would be an unavoidable decision, were it not that there is a third and much less drastic and tragic course open to him.

That is to pass to the Vice President — temporarily and only for the period of his convalescence — the powers and duties of this office, but not the office itself. Mr. Eisenhower would remain the President of the United States. But for a period, and at his own discretion, the Vice President would be the Acting President.

If Mr. Eisenhower does this, he will be putting into effect the relevant part of the plan, which Attorney General Brownell with his approval, laid before Congress last April. Section 2 of the Eisenhower-Brownell plan meets the present situation exactly. It reads as follows:

"If a President declares in writing that he is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, such powers and duties shall be discharged by the Vice President as Acting President. This section authorizes a President to announce his own inability and allows him to do so, knowing that his powers and duties will be restored to him when he recovers."

Objection Raised

I know of only one serious objection to this procedure. It is that the Vice President would be in a hard position, not knowing how long he was to act as President and therefore compelled to guess whether the President, when he recovered, would approve of what he was doing. This might be particularly difficult in case he had to make appointments to the senior Cabinet posts.

Though there is weight in this objection, the question is whether the third course is, nevertheless, not preferable, on the one hand, to government by a kind of self-constituted and anonymous regency, and, on the other hand, to the momentous and irrevocable act of resignation. I think it would be the best choice among choices of which none is anything but unpleasant. For Vice President Nixon, who has been maturing successfully, has in the past year shown that he has the vigor and the boldness to go in the direction that Mr. Eisenhower himself would go — if he had the necessary vigor of mind and body.

There is another reason why it would be a good thing for the President to take this course. It would establish a necessary and useful precedent as to what can be done under the Constitution when the President, though disabled, is still capable of judging that he is disabled.

This, to be sure, solves only part of the problem of presidential disability. There would remain the problem of what to do if the President is unconscious or irrational. But it would meet the most likely situation, and in fact it would have met all the situations — of Garfield, of Wilson, and of Eisenhower himself — which in fact presented themselves.

The Parish house in the rear of Trinity Episcopal Church on Reed Ave. will be opened with a dedicatory service and dinner at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. John Fohl at her apartment in the Giba Building, Third St.

Mrs. S.C. Ross and her grandson, Billy Ross, left yesterday for Grove City to spend several days with relatives.

Twenty Years Ago

Tuesday, Nov. 30, 1937

Monongahela Valley residents who make frequent trips to Pittsburgh today were provided a shorter route there through the opening of two bridges that had been closed over a period of months. They were the Homestead High Level span and the Braddock-Rankin bridge.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Doris Duke Cromwell left this area today after visiting mining communities. They inspected Pencraft, near Uniontown, a 250-acre rehabilitation settlement that the American Friends Service committee is building for unemployed coal miners. They spent the weekend in West Virginia.

New traffic regulations have been placed into effect in Monessen's downtown section. The one-way traffic established throughout the business district, the full length of Schoonmaker and Donner Aves. has eliminated some of the congestion and traffic jams which were so much in evidence before.

Nation Seen Suffering From Verbal Inflation

By HARRY R. PORE Jr.

I've been thinking for some time that one thing that's wrong in this country today is that we're all talking too much. We are suffering from an inflation of words, and just as happens in the case of money, words lose their value and meaning when too many of them are in circulation.

This may seem like an odd observation coming from a newspaper editor. But I don't exempt the newspapers from my observation. Certainly not some of the great metropolitan dailies, which are now so large and full of words that even the most assiduous reader can only hope to skim the surface.

The Russians may be ahead of us in missiles and satellites, but they won't catch us for a long time in the production of words. We have developed the mechanics of printing and broadcasting and otherwise circulating words among each other to a point of diminishing returns. And I'm afraid it's happening that the more words we produce and throw around, the less anyone pays them heed, including those who produce them.

Mail Full of Junk

Nearly everybody is bothered these days by junk mail. But I think editors must get more of it than nearly anybody else. And 99 per cent of the words that are sent to an editor by people trying to get them in the paper for nothing go straight to the waste basket.

One day recently I saved the junk that arrived in just one mail delivery. It made a stack about eight inches high. And here are a few representative samples:

American Waterways Operators, Inc., wants it known that the barge and towing vessel industry is taking an increasing share of the nation's transportation load. (About 600 words.)

Wool Bureau, Inc., reports that your wife will soon be able to wash her wool dress and men's trousers will have permanent creases. (600 words.)

Shell Oil Co. has a film library. (500 words.)

American Gas Association is planning a safety crusade in 1958. (400 words.)

The New Leader has an article called, "Seven Days that Shook Guatemala" which the editor says he thinks I will want to read. I doubt it. (2,000 words.)

Association of Casualty & Surety Companies says the country could cut the cost of traffic by $136 million a year through safety measures. (700 words.)

Westinghouse Electric Corp. reveals that it uses the oil of the sperm whale to coat light bulb bases to prevent them from sticking to sockets. And it's a mistake, says Westinghouse, to start lighting your Christmas tree from the bottom up. (400 words.)

Royal Dutch Airlines says if you're going to Europe between now and Christmas, you should do your Christmas shopping at Schiphol Airport's "Tax-Free Shopping Center." (150 words.)

Fund for the Republic announces publication of a series of pamphlets in connection with the Fund's study of a free society. The Fund, we gather, is in the word business in a large way. (1,500 words.)

Body Noises

Fisher Body Division announces it now has "electronic instruments" to detect and minimize body noises. These evidently hadn't been discovered before my car (Body by Fisher) was produced. (400 words.)

National Canners Association urges Pennsylvania canners to build "confident and harmonious" relationships with canning crops producers. (250 words.)

That's about the first three inches off the top of the junk heap, but it will give you an idea. And this goes on day after day, month after month the year around.

What I'm wondering is what's going to happen to us when we quit paying attention to each other altogether, when words lose all significance for the utterer as well as for the intended hearer? Won't the nation become a Tower of Babel, a bedlam of noise without meaning? And yet isn't this the logical result of unchecked inflation in the production and circulation of words?

Eisenhower Won't Permit a Vacuum

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

President Eisenhower is prepared to withdraw from office and turn over the full powers of the White House to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, if he finds that his third illness in two years impairs his ability to do his job.

Those who know Mr. Eisenhower's thinking on the subject of his health are certain that he will not permit, at this critical juncture in affairs, the kind of vacuum in the presidency which prevails for several months after his heart attack in September, 1955.

My information is that the President has already thought through this matter and is quite ready to resign if he concludes that his recovery does not proceed rapidly enough or is leaving him without the stamina to carry the burdens of office.

Mr. Eisenhower himself asked Congress last year to prepare for this possible emergency whether it might come to him or some future President.

Could Yield to Nixon

Although Congress did not act on his recommendations, it is open to Mr. Eisenhower to take a radical and unprecedented step at his own initiative under Section 5, Article II of the Constitution.

This is the clause which states that in "case of his death, resignation or inability" to perform his office, "the powers and duties. . . shall devolve upon the Vice President."

Mr. Eisenhower could resign or could at any time affirm his own "inability" to carry on as he believes he should.

This does not mean that Mr. Eisenhower now expects that he will have to resign.

This does not mean that there is any present reason to question the hopeful verdict of the White House physicians who say the outlook is excellent "for complete recovery within a reasonable period of time."

It does mean that Mr. Eisenhower alone will have to determine whether this "reasonable period of time" is going beyond the period that the presidency could be safely left without sustained and energetic direction — what with the perilous Soviet challange in science and weapons and the urgent meeting of NATO heads of government thrown into doubt and delay.

Ike Won't Hesitate

What I am reporting, from sources I have reason to trust, is that Mr. Eisenhower will not hesitate to remove himself decisively should he conclude that such an action would be best for the country.

He will not cling to office for the sake of holding office. In conversation with friends he has often cited how Woodrow Wilson clung to the presidency when he was unable to exercise his powers effectively.

Mr. Eisenhower wants none of that.

Quite apart from the awareness of many of his associates that Mr. Eisenhower would be prepared to step down if it developed that he was not physically up to the job, there is documentation in the President's own words that he pondered such a possible course of action as far back as early 1956.

In his address to the nation on Feb. 29, 1956, announcing his willingness to run for a second term, for example, he said he would not be standing for re-election were he not convinced "that he could perform as well as I ever have, all the important duties of the presidency."

Then in the course of his March 7 press conference he disclosed that if it developed during the campaign or while he was "in the job" that he felt at any time not "absolutely up to the performance of the duties of the presidency," he would go before the American people immediately and put the facts before them.

Statement Quoted

Here is the pertinent extract from the official transcript of the March 7 press conference:

Question — "Suppose you found out before convention time that your physical condition was below the par that you expected? Could you say what you would do under that circumstance?"

President's reply — "Unless I felt absolutely up to the performance of the duties of the presidency, the second that I didn't, I would no longer be there in the job or I wouldn't be available for the job.

"That would be absolutely a result of the kind of statement I have made to the American people. I have promised them that, as a matter of fact."

The foregoing public statement corresponds with the views he has expressed more than once to friends; namely, that should it develop before his re-election that he did not feel up to performing his duties, he would withdraw from the campaign, and that if this circumstance developed after his election, he would "no longer be there in the job"; that is, he would be prepared to step aside.

The encouraging fact which emerges from all this is that Mr. Eisenhower's first concern is the effective functioning of the presidency at a very fateful moment in history and that he will not hesitate to act unconventionally if the circumstances require.

The Cynic's Corner—

"The race for outer-space between Russia and America is to impress under-developed countries . . . personally, I'm not impressed!"

Szabo-Bilohlavek Nuptials Solemnized at Perryopolis

Barbara Arlene Szabo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hazy of Perryopolis, became the bride of Thomas Charles Bilohlavek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bilohlavek of Perryopolis on Saturday, Nov. 9.

The nuptials were solemnized at 11 a. m. at St. John Roman Catholic Church of Perryopolis with the Rev. John A. Stofcik, church pastor, officiating.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white silk imported peau de soie and Chantilly lace styled with a fitted bodice accented with scalloped lace trim. The long lace sleeves were pointed at the wrists and the bouffant skirt formed a chapel train in the back. Her fingertip veil of sheer illusion fell from an orange blossom headpiece and she carried a Prayer Book topped with a white orchid and lilies of the valley.

Delphine Cimini, maid of honor, wore a floor length gown of shell pink with a matching headpiece and short veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink carnations tied with blue ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Charlotte Vargo, aunt of the bride, and Patti Bilohlavek, sister of the bridegroom. They wore gowns of blue with matching headpiece and carried cascades of blue carnations.

Fred Tylka of Van Meter was best man and the ushers were Paul Bilohlavek and Stephen Szabo.

The bride's mother chose a dress of navy blue with matching accessories. The mother of the bridegroom selected a light blue dress with matching accessories. They wore orchid corsages.

A dinner at Attea's Hotel in Connellsville followed the ceremony and later there was a reception held there.

The bride was graduated from Perry-Lower Tyrone High School in 1957, and her husband was graduated from the same school in 1951. He served two years in the U. S. Army and is now employed at the Westinghouse Atomic Energy plant, Pittsburgh.

Engagement Is Announced Here

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Enos of Smithdale are announcing the engagement of their niece, Evelyn Halfhill, to Michael Troup. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Troup of West Newton R.D.

When the betrothal was recently announced there was no date set for the marriage.

Marriage of District Couple Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Anthony Campayno are now residing at 114 Water St., West Newton, after their marriage in the Holy Family Roman Catholic Church of West Newton, and a wedding trip to the Poconos.

Before her marriage the bride was Patricia Ann Berarducci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Berarducci of Howard St., West Newton. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campayno of Elizabeth.

The Rev. Charles Guth was the officiating priest.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white nylon chiffon with a re-embroidered bodice. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a pill box headpiece of alencon lace. She carried a white Bible, a gift of her parents, topped with white roses.

Ellen Luzi of West Newton was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Frances Berarducci of West Newton, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Joan Ference of Elizabeth, sister of the bridegroom, and Lois Gosley of West Newton. They wore turquoise gowns with bouffant skirts and fitted bodices. The maid of honor carried a crescent of pink roses, and the other attendants carried yellow roses.

The bride's sister, Debra, was the flower girl, and she wore white nylon chiffon. She carried tinted pompons and rose petals.

Stephen Hunt of Elizabeth was the ring bearer.

Eugene Hunt of Elizabeth was best man, and ushers were Frank Berarducci, brother of the bride, John Ference of Elizabeth, brother-in-law of the groom and Dean Marracini of Clairton.

Breakfast was served at Sweeney's after the service. The reception was held in the West Newton Moose Hall. The Men About Town provided the music.

Mary Maione Wed To George R. Nega

Selecting Thanksgiving day, Nov. 28, for their marriage were Mary Maione and George R. Nega. They exchanged their nuptial vows in St. Cajetan Roman Catholic Church at 10 o'clock in the morning before the Rev. Leonard Sanesi.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ortenzio Maione of 1126 George St., Monessen, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zigmund Nega of Belle Vernon R. D. 2.

Two vases of white gladiolus decorated the church altar, and a third vase was placed on the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown was of white imported tulle appliqued with French alencon lace and worn over slipper satin. The bodice was fitted with a sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The very full skirt was emphasized with lace applique. Her chapel length veil was made of imported silk illusion with matching applique and was held to a coronation crown of pearls, sequins and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and lilies of the valley.

The honor attendant was Georgetta Wiles, sister of the bridegroom. She chose a gown of coral nylon chiffon over taffeta. It was styled ballerina length with a fitted bodice and satin cummerbund with a back bow. The pleated skirt was along full lines. She wore a matching coronet crown with a brief face veil and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations tied with coral and blue streamers.

The bridesmaid, Norma Maiolini, wore a sapphire blue gown designed exactly like that worn by the matron of honor. She wore a matching coronet and carried an identical floral arrangement.

Patsy Maione, brother of the bride, was best man. Usher was Ronald Campbell.

The mother of the bride wore a gray lace dress over pink taffeta. Her accessories were black and her corsage was an orchid. The mother of the bridegroom also wore an orchid corsage with her rose lace over taffeta dress with a blue hat and other accessories of black.

A wedding dinner at the Park Casino supplemented the ceremony. The guest list included the families and a few close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Nega are now residing in their newly furnished home in Belle Vernon R. D. 1.

The bride was graduated from Monessen High School and is employed in the Thorofare Market at Charleroi. Her husband, a Rostraver graduate, is employed by Zelfiro Transfer Co.

Kathleen Kerr Is Honored at Birthday Party

Kathleen Terry Kerr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kerr of Punxsutawney, where Mr. Kerr is with the State Police, was honored guest at a party held at the home of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bema Santell of Rostraver St.

The occasion marked the observance of her tenth birthday anniversary. The dining room was decorated in a birthday theme and the table was centered with a decorated birthday cake.

Games were played and pictures were taken. Kathleen opened her many gifts at the close of the affair.

Children present were Jane Anne, Madelyn, Diane, Ralph and Mary Aline DeLuca of Canonsburg, Tommy Gallagher of Punxsatawney, Mickey and Tami Beeman, Billy and Kim Kerr.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Al DeLuca, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Beeman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gallagher Jr., Mrs. Effie Kerr and Mrs. Santell.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Donato
(Barbara Ann Lett)

Barbara Ann Lett Becomes Bride of John H. Donato

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Barbara Ann Lett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lett of Belle Vernon R. D. 3 to John H. Donato of Augusta, Maine.

The nuptials were solemnized on Saturday morning, Nov. 16, at 9 o'clock in St. Timothy Roman Catholic Church of Smithton. The Rev. Francis Gresko was the officiating priest.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white lace and tulle over satin. It was styled with a fitted lace bodice, long sleeves, high jewel neckline and full peplum of lace over the tulle skirt. She wore a fingertip veil of sheer illusion held to a cap of scalloped lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations with white shower streamers knotted with lilies of the valley.

Maid of Honor

Maid of honor was Patricia Ann Lett, sister of the bride. She wore a gown of blue chiffon styled ballerina length with a fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a matching crown and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Glenn Shepler of Belle Vernon served as best man.

After the ceremony there was a wedding dinner served at Peasant Village. Centering the bridal table was a tiered wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Donato spent several days on a wedding trip to Washington D.C. and are now living with the latter's parents in Belle Vernon R.D.

Honor Member At Dinner Party

A birthday suprise dinner party was held by the Twelve Links in honor of Mrs. Catherine Jurkiewicz of Knox Ave.

A chicken dinner was prepared and served by Mrs. Josephine Galaski, and Mrs. Mary Galaski, Mrs. Ann Sokolski and Mrs. Mary Filipowski, baked the birthday cake.

Cards were played and those receiving prizes were Ann Sokolski and Mrs. Charlotte Szerezen, who won the guest award.

The honored guest received a gift.

Dec. 8 the club will have a Christmas party at the Park Casino.

Valley D. A. R. Members Active At Conference

Monongahela Valley Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was represented at the 61st annual conference of the Pennsylvania Society of the D.A.R. held recently in Harrisburg.

Those attending were Mrs. Kenyon Nicholl, regent; Mrs. O. C. Taylor, junior past regent; Mrs. Frank Stockton and Mrs. Harry F. Carson.

Mrs. Nicholl served as parliamentarian for the conference. Mrs. Taylor was honored when she was chosen to serve on the nominating committee for state officers.

The keynote of the conference program was the outline of the part the women can play in raising moral standards among young people of today. The 36 chapters from central Pennsylvania were the hostess groups.

Charleroi-Monessen D.A.R. Club was recently entertained at the home of Mrs. Russell Snyder with Mrs. C. C. Stevens and Miss Helen Hill as the assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Peter Gerard conducted the brief business meeting during which plans were discussed for the annual Christmas meeting.

Miss Della Swan of Monessen presented the program, and began by reading the president general's message. A Thanksgiving theme was chosen. Miss Swan read an article by Mrs. Laurence Sweetman entitled "Early American Music."

Another article read was one which was written by Mrs. J. Riley Staats, a former regent of the valley chapter. It was titled, "History and Legends of American Vegetables."

ON THE BALL

By CLAIR BROWN

Flu Layoff Hurt 'Hound Record

Consensus among valley grid observers from other communities other than Monessen is that had the 'Hounds not suffered that long flu layoff, they would have surprised a couple of the foes who defeated them and could have come up with a favorable record . . . In fact, one neutral fan, very close to the valley sports scene, says he believes Monessen could have taken both Charleroi and Donora had the Niccolaimen not been forced to lay off for such a long time prior to those games . . . Regardless, it was nice to end the season with a Big Five Conference victory like the one over Brownsville Friday and for a local gridder (Ken Bronson) to win the scoring title . . . Sort of put the "icing on the cake", so to speak, after having three-Greyhounds named to the All-Conference first team.

The advance sale of season tickets to Monessen High basketball games was a little below expectations this year. The over-lapping football campaign probably had something to do with this . . . It's a long way off but check off Easter Sunday night on your social calendar and keep it open for a performance here by the Notre Dame University concert band under the sponsorship of the Mon Valley Shamrock Club . . . Have you noticed the large number of free agents being signed by the Pirates the past couple of months? . . . Hmmmm! . . . Incidentally, 33 Bucco farm hands were selected to all star teams in their respective Minor Leagues . . . Now if just half of them (we'll even settle for a third) become Major League All-Stars, we might win that pennant yet.

Bears Not Immediately Eligible

Clairton High School, the newest member of the Big Six Football Conference, probably won't be eligible for championship consideration until 1959. When accepted into the conference this week, the Bears were told they would be eligible for the title when they scheduled all other valley schools. Monessen, for one, can't work Clairton on to its grid card until 1959. As a matter of fact, a contract has already been signed between MHS and Clairton for the '59 and '60 seasons . . . Incidentally, Charleroi and Monongahela are already on the Clairton schedule. Donora and Brownsville are both expected to play the Bears by 1959, thus making Clairton a title contender at that time.

Valley Fans can get a look at Clairton's 1957 edition this afternoon at Pitt Stadium where the Bears will battle Wilkinsburg for the WPIAL Class AA crown . . . It's funny how the Gardiner Point System appears to have the team totals set at one figure and then when the final alignment is made there is quite a difference but then upsets plus a re-evaluation of the points when they are as close as this year's race (after Clairton) is bound to cause some changes . . . Temple has been voted the No. 1 Eastern College cage team this season in a poll conducted by Pitt publicity director Carroll Cook . . . La Salle is second, Duquesne third with Pitt eighth behind Connecticut, Canisius, Yale and St. Bonaventure . . . Niagara and NYU complete the top ten . . . Leading Eastern cage coaches participated in the voting.

Feller Makes Banquet 'Big League'

Addition of Bob Feller, the former Cleveland star hurler and one of baseball's all-time greats, to the Valley Sportswriters annual banquet program certainly puts the '57 fete in the "big leagues" in more ways than one . . . Feller joins Terry Brennan, Joe Garagiolo, ex-Card and Pirate catcher, now an entertaining after dinner speaker; Joe L. Brown, Buc GM; Danny Murtaugh, Pirate field manager; Bob Prince, as emcee; district coaches, etc. etc., on the program . . . Bellmar and Rostraver football squads will be honored at the monthly Communion breakfast of St. Sebastian's Holy Name Society next Sunday . . . This is an annual custom . . . Although the big race is not until May 30, tickets for the annual Indianapolis Speedway Race will go on sale Monday, Dec. 2 . . . How's that for an early advance sale?

Clairton-Wilkinsburg For AA Title Today

By UNITED PRESS

Clairton and Wilkinsburg meet at Pitt Stadium today to decide the WPIAL Class AA football championship.

In Friday night games, a strong, poised Braddock team defeated Glassport, 14-0, to win its third consecutive Class A crown, and Montour and Avella deadlocked, 7-7, to share the Class B title.

Wilkinsburg goes into today's game with a season record of nine straight victories. It won its last Class AA championship in 1922.

Both teams boast powerful two-deep backfields. Clairton has amassed a total of 300 points while rolling over all opposition this season, and Wilkinsburg has scored a total of 208 points.

Clairton was rated a six-point favorite over coach Clarke Ted Miller's Tigers. Clairton won its last WPIAL Class AA championship in 1954.

In the Braddock-Glassport game, played at McKeesport, Ben Powell scored in the first period on a 30-yard dash, and Jerry Manns plunged from the one-yard line in the final period for the other touchdown. Besides winning the last three Class A championships, Braddock tied for the championship in 1954.

Avella scored in the second period on a 20-yard run by Frank Ferrarri. Quarterback Billy Krieger scored Montour's touchdown on a 56-yard run around left end in the third period. The game was played at Canonsburg.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Heavyweight Eddie Machen will be out of action for six weeks due to a slight fracture in his right hand, suffered as he pounded Hurricane Jackson about the head in their bout last week, trainer Mario Spampinato said today. Machen's left hand also suffered minor injury.

Rostraver In 44-39 Victory

Rostraver High's basketballers passed their first test of the 1957-58 season last night, turning back Perryopolis, 44-39.

The Leps led from start to finish, building up a 13 point advantage at one stage in the game.

However the spunky visitors made a real game of it in the closing minutes. They pulled to within three points of the Leps with 1:50 to play.

At that point, Coach George Everett's pupils regained control and hung on grimly to post their initial win of the season.

Sharp-shooting Jim Bush, 5-10 senior, led the Leps with 12 points. Dick Shaffer, 6-3, and Gus Allen, 5-10, each chipped in with 10 points.

For the losers, Jerry McArdle, 6-1, contributed 14 points to the Perry cause. Len Swiantek had 12 points.

In the Jayvee game, Rostraver beat off a late challenge to win 39-33.

Varsity lineups follow:

Rostraver 44

Allen 4-2-10; Ahlborn 3-1-7; Shaffer 4-2-10; Bush 4-4-12; Kuhn 2-0-4; Daumit, 0-1-1; Totals 17-10-44.

Perryopolis 39

Local MV Ladies Blank Scottdale

Monessen's entry in the Mon Valley Ladies League shut out Scottdale this week, 3-0 as Mary Palm showed the way with a 574 three-game series and also had the single game high of 223. Marge Zimmers was high for the losers with a 360 chart.

In other results this week, Uniontown topped Donora, 2-1; Bentleyville edging Charleroi Grand 2-1, Connellsville defeating Charleroi New Moon, 2-1 and Fredericktown blanking Belle Vernon, 3-0.

Leading Uniontown was Libby Nara with a 498, Helen Paro was high for Donora with 472, Marge Zimmers had a 360 for Scottdale. Nancy Hudock was tops for Connellsville with 461, Mona Negro for Charleroi Moon with 493, Ida Picchiarini for Belle Vernon with a 385 and Mae Jenaway for Fredericktown with a 414.

Martha Ventuurini has the top average with a 155.09 mark. Mary Palm of Monessen has a 149.02 average.

Uniontown still leads the standings with a 29-7 chart. Monessen is in sixth with an 18-18 record.

Close Race Seen In Fabric League

Only two games separate the first three teams with six games remaining in the Fabric Bowling League.

The 49ers and Bears tied for the two spot after wins this week over the Eagles and Giants while Rams moved closer to the Steelers in third place with a 21-18 mark following a defeat of the Steelers, 2-1.

Fritz Shaffer paced the scorers this week with a 187-482 card.

Others among the top scorers were Ed Billak, Dick Perry, D. DiGregorio, John Polinchack and Phil Nuzzaci.

Williams Closing in In Weld Shop Loop

Williams moved closer to Lincoln in the weld Shop League with a victory this week while Lincoln was being shut out by Electric.

D. Vecchione with a 184 single-game score and F. Mager with a 485 three-game were top scorers. J. Miaolini, J. Koget, C. Lambert were also among the top point-makers.

Lincoln 23-13, Williams 22-14, Eutectic 19-17, M. Service 17-19, American Torch 14-22, and Atom Arc 13-23.

Shenos Leading GAPA Bowler

John Shenos had the three-game high, Chuck Miller the single game tops in GAPA Bowling League action last night, over the holiday.

Apollo and Zeus copped the team matches.

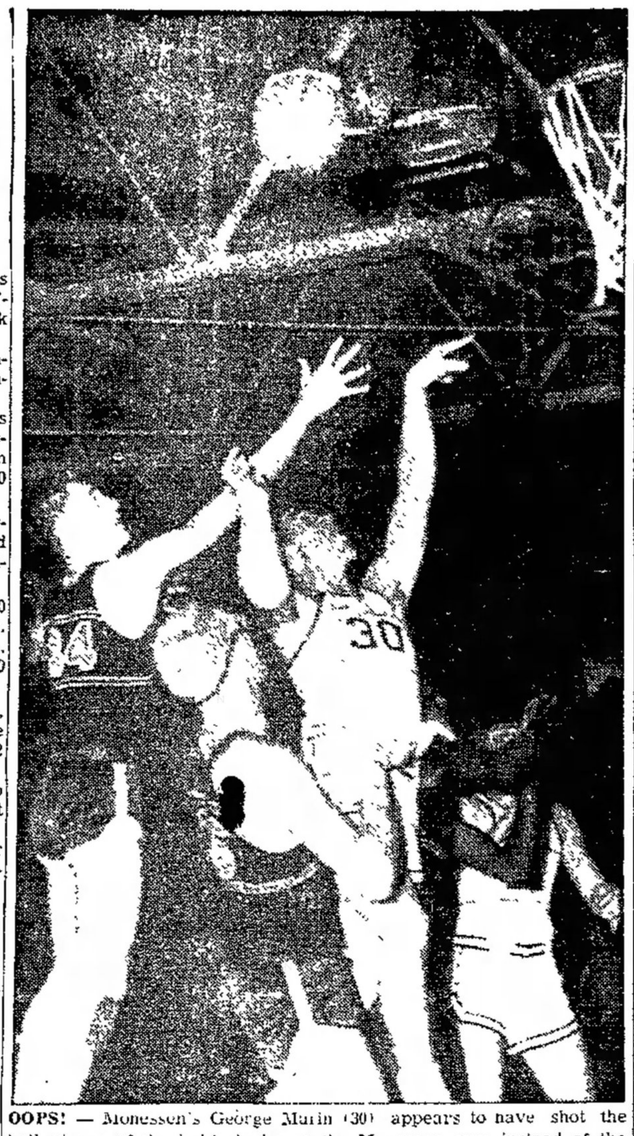
Other top scorers were Steve Tetteris, George Chicolis, George Papantonakis, Gus Manos, Chuck Miller, John Apodiakos.

Standings — Spartans 24-12, Zeus 24-12, Thor 16-20, and Apollo 8-28.

St. Leonard's Bowling Banquet Set Monday

The St. Leonard's Ladies Bowling League will hold its Christmas banquet on Monday at Twin Coaches.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. Entertainment will follow.



OOPS! — Monessen's George Murin (30) appears to have shot the ball at one of the light shades at the Monessen gym instead of the basket in the 61-44 loss to Monessen last night but it's only an optical illusion, actually the ball has bounded off the banking board after an unsuccessful Greyhound field goal attempt. Up with Murin is McKeesport's 6-5 forward Joe Williams (34). Anxiously looking on are Bill Baugh, Tiger high-scorer (foreground), McKeesport's John Allen and Joe Karbowsky of Monessen.

Three 5-A Teams Win, Four Suffer Defeats

It was three wins and four losses for Mon Valley Conference (Section 5-A) cage teams last night as Charleroi, defending champion, Brownsville and California posted victories while the local Greyhounds, Donora, Monongahela and Bellmar suffered defeats.

Charleroi had little trouble with Connellsville, winning 83-55, California had an equally easy time against Waynesburg, 74-47; and Brownsville defeated Redstone, 71-65 for the victories. On the other side of the ledger, Bellmar dropped a 58-26 decision to Elizabeth-Forward; Monongahela bowed to Greensburg, 53-36; and Charlton edged Donora, 70-63.

No details were available on the Monongahela, Donora, and Brownsville tilts. Summaries of the other games follow:

Elizabeth-56 Bellmar-28

Bellmar battled Elizabeth on even terms last night for the first period then faltered badly in the second quarter as Elizabeth-Forward blanked the Hurricanes and went on to an easy 58-26 victory.

Inability to hit the hoop stopped the Canes cold as Bill Benedetti's lads rolled to a 23-6 half-time lead and a 43-16 third period score.

Holdover Frank Bernadowski rolled in 17 points for the Warriors, George Altman 12 and Ron Griffith 11 to pace the winners.

Carl Osborne and Joe Badock were high for the Hurricanes, each with six points.

Next start for Tom Healey's Hurricanes is at West Newton Tuesday night. Elizabeth will visit Rostraver Tuesday night.

Bellmar Jayvees Cop Thriller, 31-30

Bellmar's Jayvees made sure the trip to Forward Township was not a complete loss as they edged the E-F Junior Varsity by a 31-30 count.

Ron Coates dumped the winning basket with just 14 seconds remaining, as he paced the Junior 'Canes with 12 of the 16 points scored in the last half in a terrific rally after trailing 25-20 at the three-quarter mark.

Cubs, Sox Not Carded

CHICAGO (UP)— For the first time in 25 years, the Chicago White Sox and Chicago Cubs will not meet in a pre-season exhibition game, it has been announced.

Charleroi-83 Connellsville-55

Coach Henry Pennline's Charleroi High cagers took an early lead and romped to any easy 83-55 opening game victory at Connellsville's last night.

Ollie Payne with 19 points, Al Thiry and Bob Coulter sparked the Cougars. The Cokers, coached by former Ellsworth High star George Milby, was fronted by the 22 points garnered by Tim Caruso. Charleroi converted 23 of 37 fouls, Connellsville made 21 in 36 tries.

Charleroi's Reserves won the preliminary tilt, 53 to 24.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UP)—Deogracias Viera Sosa, owner of Quintana Race Track, said today he will ask the Puerto Rican Racing Commission for permission to build a modern three-million dollar track. It was reported John Kelly of Philadelphia, president of Atlantic City Track, would be an associate in the proposed track, which would be in competition to the new El Comandante Track.

Greyhound Cagers in Opener Loss by 61-44 To McKeesport Tigers

Locals Falter in Third Period After Close First Half Action

Monessen High School's basketball team played a tall, talented McKeesport team on even terms for two quarters last night before 1600 fans at the high school gym but faltered in the third and fourth periods for a 61-44 defeat in the 1957-58 exhibition season opener.

Coach Neenie Campbell's defending Section 6 champions took a 13-7 first half lead only to have the Greyhounds come back with an 18-14 second quarter for a 27-25 halftime count, McKeesport leading by a scant two points.

The locals continued their alert play at the beginning of the third quarter until the count reached 31-30 and then the dam broke, so to speak.

McKeesport moved to a 31-28 lead as the second half opened but baskets by Joe Kurey and Dick DiBiaso narrowed the gap to 31-28 and Bill Makinen brought Coach Frank Janosik's 'Hounds to within a point at the 31-30 mark.

McKeesport's 6-4 Jim Williams made it 34-30 on two quickies with John Allen jumping the count to 36-30 but Charley Bill hit on a "long gone" for a 36-32 margin for the visitors.

Bill Baugh tiger center, sank three straight, however, Allen and Williams one each and Joe Urish two straight to jump the count to 47-32 before Kurey hit for a 'Hound bucket. After that the locals were never in the game again, McKeesport out-scoring the 'Hounds, 18-7 in the third period and 16-12 the last quarter as Kurey and DiBiaso tried in vain to get the locals back in contention.

All in all the Janosikmen put on a good "show" considering the short time the gridders have been with the squad (Dan Barton, Joe Karbowsky and Carl Payne) and the limited squad with which Janosik has been working.

DiBiaso connected for 14 points, Kurey for 13 to pace the 'Hound scoring but top honors for the night went to Baugh with 18 and Ulrish with 15, Allen had 12 and Williams 10 for the Tigers.

Monessen hit on 6 of 10 free throws, the Tigers on 13 of 19. McKeesport shot 42 per cent on 24 of 56 field goal attempts, the locals 33 per cent on 19 out of 58 tries.

An impressive pre-game ceremony last night featured the introduction of players of both teams and the playing of the National Anthem by the Monessen High School band under the direction of Julius Dalfonso.

Next start for the Janosikmen is at Greensburg Tuesday night.

Pirate GM Off To Meeting With Trades in Mind

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Pittsburgh Pirates general manager Joe L. Brown left today for next week's baseball conferences at Colorado Springs, Colo., in a player-trading frame of mind.

"We definitely have trades in mind. We have dates to talk with Philadelphia, San Francisco, St. Louis and Cincinnati," Brown said Friday at a press conference.

Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh, in answer to queries how his team would finish in 1958, said it was impossible to figure "the summer's outcome sitting here in the winter."

"I think the players found themselves and that we can play .500 ball or maybe better. That is, if the league stays as it is right now," he said.

The Pirates won 26 and lost 26 games during Murtaugh's tenure as manager last season. Murtaugh replaced Bobby Bragan as manager in a mid-season switch.

Panthers Enjoy Open Date Today

PITTSBURGH (UP)— The University of Pittsburgh, which plays its final game against Miami next Saturday, had an open date today.

The team departs for Miami on Thursday. Practice will be held at the Orange Bowl stadium, site of the game, on Friday.

Pitt has a 4-5 record this season.

The game with Miami will be televised nationally.

Swoon's Son Top Choice in Today's Pimlico Special

BALTIMORE (UP) — Swoon's Son, a colt who already has won more stakes than such champions as Man O'War, Nashua and Native Dancer, is favored to capture his 21st today by taking the $50,000 Pimlico Special.

Promised Land, Third Brother and Tick Tock complete the four-horse field for the 21st running of the mile-and-three-sixteenths event. Promised Land will carry 123 pounds while each of the other entries will carry 126. Dave Erb will ride Swoon's Son.

Willie Hartack, heading for a record third straight riding championship with 340 victories this season, will ride Promised Land for Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs. Ted Atkinson, whose career total of 3,589 victories includes three in the Special, will handle Third Brother for Christopher T. Chenery. Bill Boland will wear Howell E. Jackson's colors on Tick Tock.

The crowd is expected to send Swoon's Son off as the 6 to 5 choice.

Junior High Five Cops 41-31 Victory Over Rostraver

One local victory was posted in the triple-header cage program here last night which marked the opening of the 1957-58 season in Monessen as Coach Frederic Feldman's Monessen Junior High eleven copped the opener on the card by a 41-31 count over Rostraver's Juniors.

The locals took a 9-3 first quarter lead and increased it to 21-11 at halftime and kept ahead.

Tony Romasco paced the scoring with 20 points while Rostraver's Willie Ross was close behind with 19.

Rostraver rallied in the final period but the locals held off the drive and copped the duke.

Monessen looked especially good at the foul line with five of six free throws, Rostraver canning only seven of 14.

Feldman substituted freely in the last three minutes.

Nert start for the local Juniors is at Fallowfield Township Tuesday while Rostraver hosts Monongahela's Juniors Monday.

Jayvees Drop 39-27 Decision

Coach Tony Caterino's Monessen Jayvees also dropped a decision last night as the McKeesport Junior Varsity edged the locals, 39-27.

Caterino let all of the local cagers see action with Paterra leading the scoring with 11 points, the only Monessen JV cager in double figures.

Game honors went to Kashlak of McKeesport with 16 points.

The game was close throughout with the locals threatening several times to forge ahead but bowing to superior height.

Steelers Ready For Battle With Philadelphia

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers conducted a final practice session this morning and then departed by plane for their game Sunday with the Philadelphia Eagles at Connie Mack Stadium.

Pittsburgh goes into the contest with a 4-4 season record, compared with the Eagles' 3-6 showing.

A previous game between the Pennsylvania rivals resulted in a 6-0 win for Pittsburgh.

Two players will be missing from the Philadelphia lineup Sunday. Linebacker Chuck Bednarik has been sidelined with a rib separation and end Rocky Ryan is recovering from an appendectomy operation.

For Pittsburgh, fullback Bill Bowman has been sidelined with a rib separation.

Steelers coach Buddy Parker said his team would face an Eagles' squad that has improved greatly since the first contest between the two clubs. Parker anticipated a stiff battle in his efforts to keep Pittsburgh in third place of the National Football League's Eastern Conference.

Giants-49ers in NFL Top Contest Sunday

By UNITED PRESS

The New York Giants and San Francisco Forty-Niners can't afford another loss and they clash in one of Sunday's most interesting National Football League pairings.

New York, defending league and Eastern Division champion, trails the first-place Cleveland Browns by a half-game San Francisco, which has dropped three straight road games to lose the Western Division lead, trails the pace-setting Baltimore Colts by one game The Giants are eight-point favorites for the Yankee Stadium clash

Cleveland, which already has topped its best previous home season attendance in the NFL with 283,640 for its first five games, plays host to the Chicago Cardinals. The Browns are 10-point choices and expect 60,000 for their final 1957 home game

Baltimore entertains the Los Angeles Rams and is a five-point choice. The Colts may top their biggest previous home crowd, 51,587.

The Detroit Lions moved out of a tie with San Francisco and cut Baltimore's lead to a half-game by defeating the Green Bay Packers Thursday, 18-6. The Lions and Packers now are idle, until Dec. 8.

In Sunday's other contests, the Bears are favored over the Washington Redskins by eight points at Chicago and the Eagles are 2½ point choices to beat the Pittsburgh Steelers at Philadelphia.

The New York-San Francisco game will pit the league's best defense against passes against its best passing attack. The Giants have allowed rival passers to complete only 42.4 per cent of their throws, the best mark in this department. Y. A. Tittle of the Forty-Niners is the most accurate and experienced passer the Giants will meet this season. His 62.3 completion percentage is the league's best.

Tittle has completed 134 of his 215 tosses for 1664 yards and 10 touchdowns.

102,000 To See Classic

By UNITED PRESS

Army vs Navy and other traditional games involving six major bowl bids and three conference championships feature the last big Saturday of the 1957 college football season today.

The Cadets and the Middies are expected to draw their usual 102,000 sellout crowd at Philadelphia with Navy this time a six-point favorite — if odds mean anything in this classic — to win and thus nail down a bid to the Cotton Bowl.

All six berths in the Cotton, Sugar, and Gator Bowls will be decided by today's action, along with league titles in the Southwest, Southeastern, and Border conferences.

Rice will clinch the Southwest Conference crown and the host spot in the Cotton Bowl if it makes good as a six-point pick over Baylor. But a Baylor victory would give bth prizes to Texas Rice (if it loses), Texas (if Rice wins), and Texas A&M are in contention for a Sugar Bowl spot.

The other Sugar Bowl berth will go to the winner of the Mississippi-Mississippi State game, in which Ole Miss is picked by four. The loser here will probably go to the Gator, perhaps against Boston College if it can make good as a three-point choice over Holy Cross. Otherwise, the Gator Bowl's second team could be West Virginia.

Auburn, picked by 14, can clinch the Southeastern Conference crown by winning although it is ineligible for a bowl bid. Arizona State, which has declined bowl consideration, can clinch the Border Conference title with a victory over Arizona.

What's more, Auburn and Arizona State are the only major college teams still unbeaten and untied and they aim to finish that way.

In other big games: Notre Dame is favored by 14 over Southern California; Oklahoma by 20 over Oklahoma State; Georgia Tech by six over Georgia; SMU by three over Texas Christian; and there's tradition at stake in Tulane-Louisiana State, Florida - Miami (Fla.), Clemson - Furman; North Carolina - Virginia, Wake Forest-South Carolina, Tulsa - Wichita, and Vanderbilt-Tennessee.

Hayes Big 10 'Coach of Year'

CHICAGO (UP)—Woody Hayes, coach of Ohio State's Big Ten football champions, today was named Midwest coach of the year by the Chicago Football Writers Assn.

Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin was voted coach of the most improved team.

Hayes' selection was by an overwhelming margin 14 of 21 writers favoring the Buckeye coach who lead his team through a schedule of seven straight Big Ten victories without a defeat.

GLENNA COLLETT VARE

As Glenna Collett, she won the first of her five U.S. Women's Golf Championships in 1922. Her last came in 1935 after she had become Mrs. Edwin H. Vare. She was known throughout the golf world simply as "Glenna" — the one to beat in every tournament of her time.

Whatever happened to Glenna Collett Vare? She's still a housewife in Philadelphia with a daughter and a son who captained Yale's golf team in 1955 Glenna still plays, too. On her 54th birthday last June she reached the final of the Rhode Island State Championship and the next day she won — regaining a title she picked up in 1921 and hadn't tried for since.

Prescriptions At Haury's Aid Many Ill Persons

With the recent wave of "flu" and other ailments striking Monessen and the Valley pretty hard, prescriptions from a reliable drug store like Haury's Pharmacy, corner of Oneida and Schoonmaker, Phone MU. 4-7282, played an important role in getting people over their illness as fast as possible.

And with changeable weather such as we experience at this season of the year it behooves everyone to take the best possible care of themselves and at the first sign of illness which they think can't be cured at home then call your family physician.

If he gives you a prescription take it to the home-owned store, Haury's Pharmacy, corner of Oneida and Schoonmaker, where it will be filled carefully, compounded of the finest drugs, to help you get well fast. And there is always a registered pharmacist on duty at all times at Haury's, ready to take care of your every need and to carry out your doctor's orders to the very letter.

Naturally more people get sick at the change of the season or during the cold Winter period. Prescriptions are more in demand and everyone must take better care of themselves, to avoid catching cold which is easy if you are not well dressed or careless in your habits.

Keep plenty of home remedies in your medicine cabinet which Haury's can supply you with.

But don't let an illness linger on. If you don't show improvement in a couple of days by all means call your doctor, Mr. Haury advises.

And follow his orders completely so you'll soon be well.

Vaughn Decisions Tiger Jones, May Get Humez Next

NEW YORK (UP)— Lanky Willie Vaughn may get a January fight with Frenchman Charles Humez, middleweight champion of Europe, because of his unanimous decision over Ralph (Tiger) Jones at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said today "we are considering a Vaughn match with Humez, whom we hope will come to New York after the first of the year."

Luxury Model Tops Buick Series Displayed at Mon Valley Motors

You'll find a real luxury model at the head of the heap of five Buick Series cars for 1958, displayed at Mon Valley Motors, Inc., Buick sales and service, 252 East Donner avenue.

Three - model luxury Limited series. . . new Dynaflow transmission. . . aluminum brake drums . . grade retarder. . new grille and side tirm . . one-piece rear window. . . dual headlights. . .air suspension

Drastically restyled, the 1958 Buicks present five series topped by the Limited, a luxury model and a new entry in the prestige car market.

Buick cites improvements in their Dynaflow transmission increased braking area and, in line with other optional equipment. All models are equipped with dual headlights.

The most spectacular change in appearance is in the grille formed of chrome squares set in four rows that extend across the front to the outer extremities of the car. Each square is composed of four triangular surfaces designed to reflect maximum light.

The fender line has been lowered and the hood line raised slightly to complement the new design. Portholes, a Buick trademark for years, have been discarded.

The front fenders form an "eyelid" over the headlights, its leading edge capped by a chrome strip which extends around the fender and becomes a sweepspear that covers downward to the rear wheel cutout which has been modified to reveal only the lower portion of the wheel.

A panel of ribbed aluminum extends along the side of the rear fenders of all models except the Limited — whose fenders are eight inches longer — where the fenders are trimmed with chrome louvres.

Heading the list of engineering changes is the new Flight Pitch Dunaflow transmission with three instead of two turbines, increasing the torque output. Buick has eliminated the low range from the transmission, claiming that the addition of the third turbine and other changes has increased performance.

Replacing the low range position is a grade, or hill, retarder to provide greater transmission breakage on hills. The Flight Pitch Dynaflow is standard on the Limited and Roadmaster series and optional on all other models. An improved variable pitch Dynaflow is standard on the Super and Century series and optional on the Special.

With the optional Air-Poise suspension, which gives a softer controlled ride, the car maintains the same level loaded as when empty. Each of the four springs is composed of a bellows consisting of a metal chamber into which a rubber disphragm is compressed by means of a plunger connected to a suspension arm.

Air pressure in the bellows is maintained from a storage tank on the frame. A compressor keeps the pressure in the tank at 290 pounds per square inch with bellows pressure maintained at 100 pounds.

As in all GM air suspensions, Buick's has a built-in "lift" that raises the body and frame approximately five and one half inches to increase ground clearance.

All Buick models are equipped with 12-inch brakes and total contact area has been increased to 218 square inches. Front brake drums on all models except the Special are aluminum with cast iron liner to provide faster cooling for the front brakes which absorb the majority of the braking power.

The Buicks are powered by a 364-cubic-inch high compression V-8 with two-barrel carburetors on the Special and four-barrel on all other models. The new models come in 20 body styles mounted on two wheelbases, 122 inches for the Special and Century and 127.5 inches for the other four series.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1 Death Notice

ANSELMI — Mrs. Allesandra, 65, Baltimore, Md., died Nov. 28, 1957, at 12:10 a. m. in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital. Survivors include a son, Patsy, Baltimore; four daughters, Mrs. George (Gonithia) Shaw, Monessen, with whom she had been visiting at the time of her death; Mrs. Jack (Elda) Jubinsky and Mrs. Joseph (Mary) Ash, both of Baltimore and Mrs. Michael (Dina) Popovich, Charleroi; seven grandchildren; three sisters and a brother in Italy. Friends are being received at the Rhome Funeral Home, 688 McKee Ave., Monessen, from 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p. m. Brief funeral services will be held Monday, Dec. 2 at 8:30 a. m. from the funeral home, with additional rites to follow at 9 o'clock from the St. Cajetan R. C. Church. The Rev. Nunzio Pirulli will officiate at requiem high mass. Interment will be held in Grandview Cemetery. H. Denver Rhome, funeral director.

BURDOCK — (Bodak) — We wish to thank the many thoughtful friends and neighbors who extended us kindness in our recent bereavement, the death of Michael Burdock. The ministrations of Rev. Andrew Parvensky, masses, floral tributes, expressions of sympathy, spiritual comfort, cars loaned for the funeral, and the aid of the pall bearers; as well as all those who assisted at the funeral will be remembered with gratitude.
Burdock Family

CARUSO — Samuel, aged 39 years, died Nov. 29, 1957 at 4 a. m. at a hospital in Venango County, after a long illness. He is survived by three brothers, Anthony, Albert and Victor, all of Monessen. Friends are being received at the Cozza Funeral Home on Reed Ave., where visiting hours are from 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p. m. Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from the funeral home, followed by solemn requiem mass at 9:30 o'clock from St. Cajetan R. C. Church with Rev. Nunzio Pirulli officiating. Interment will be in Grandview Cemetery. Perry A. Cozza, funeral director.

FURTAK — Mrs. Florence, who resided with her daughter, Mrs. Joseph (Helen) Karbowsky, Belle Vernon R.D. 3, died Nov. 28, 1957, about noon, in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Karbowsky; Mrs. Peter (Mary) Hornchalk, Belle Vernon R.D. 3 and Mrs. Peter (Eva) Rusyniak, Belle Vernon; 18 grandchildren; 45 great-granochildren and 7 great-great-grandchildren. Friends are being received at the Toner Funeral Home, Broad Ave., Belle Vernon, from 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. Services will be held Monday, Dec. 2, at 9:30 a.m. from the Holy Trinity Russian Orthodox Church, Charleroi, with the Rev. Gregory Soroka officiating at high mass. Interment will be in Belle Vernon Cemetery. Harold R. Toner, funeral director.

LICHKO — Mrs. Johanna Kubin, 920 Fallowfield Ave., Charleroi, died Nov. 29, 1957 at 3:10 a.m. Surviving are two sons, Joseph and William, Charleroi; two sisters, Mrs. Sue Kubin Straba, in Czechoslovakia and Mary Kubin, in Romania, and three grandchildren. Friends are being received at the Michael A. Melinchak Funeral Home, Charleroi, from 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. Services will be held Monday, Dec. 2, at 2 p.m. from the funeral home, with additional rites to follow from the St. John Slovak Lutheran Church. The Rev. Stephen Hurnyak will officiate. Interment will be in Charleroi Cemetery. Michael A. Melinchak, funeral director.

NAGY — Alexander, aged 77 years, 411 Sixth St., Donora, died Nov. 29, 1957 at 6 a. m. in Washington Hospital, Washington, Pa. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna Nagy; a son, Paul Nagy of Belle Vernon; two grandchildren and three great grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Susan Varro of Michigan. Friends are being received at the Schwerha Funeral Home, 546 Thompson Ave., Donora. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon from the funeral home, with Rev. Lewis J. Nagy of McKeesport, officiating. Interment will be in Belle Vernon Cemetery. R. R. Schwerha, funeral director.

OLIVIO — Mrs. Angeline, 53 Schoonmaker Ave., died Nov. 27, at 10 p.m. in the Washington Rest Home, Gillespie, Fayette City. Surviving are three sons, John, Chicago and Joseph and Frank Jr., at home; three daughters, Mrs. Rosemarie Adams, Chicago; Mrs. Peter (Mary) Cardelli and Mrs. Clarence (Yolanda) Tuscano, both of Monessen; seven grandchildren and three sisters and one brotner in Italy. Friends are being received at the Cheek Home for Funerals, 100 Schoonmaker Ave., from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. Brief services will be held Monday, Dec 2 at 9:45 a.m. from the funeral home with additional services to follow from the St. Cajetan R.C. Church. The Rev. Nunzio Pirulli will officiate. Interment will be in Grandview Cemetery. John G. Kravets, funeral director.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Gerald Petey, who died one year ago tomorrow, December 1, 1956.
Time speeds on, one year has passed,
Since death its gloom and shadows cast;
Within our home where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light.
As we loved him, so we miss him,
In our hearts he is ever near,
Loved, remembered, longed for always,
Bringing many a silent tear.
Sadly missed by Parents and Brother

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear father, grandfather, great grandfather and father-in-law, Joseph Torbar, who died 13 years ago today, November 30, 1944.
We live today with memories
Of days when you were here.
We miss you still and always will
Throughout each day and year.
At night when all is silent
And sleep forsakes our eyes,
Our thoughts are in that lonely grave
Where our dear loved one lies.
Sadly missed by Children, Grandchildren, Great Grandchildren, Daughter-in-law and Sons-in-law.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother Eugene Fontanelli who died six years ago November 30, 1951.
You are not forgotten, loved one,
Nor will you ever be
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes on we miss you more,
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
Sadly missed by parents, brothers, and sisters

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Michael Yartin, who died 10 years ago, November 27, 1947.
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
And still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile,
Of the one who once sat there.
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad the weary way;
For life is not the same to us
Since you were called away.
Sadly missed by Wife, Children and Grandchildren

In loving memory of our dearest father, Achille Salvino, who passed away five years ago, November 27, 1952.
We cannot bring the old days back,
Your hands we cannot touch,
Your face we cannot see,
But we treasure happy memories
Of our dear father when we loved so much.
Like falling leaves the days drift by,
But memories of you will never die.
But let this little token tell
That we still remember thee.
Sadly missed by his loved ones, son, Ernest Salvino and his daughters, Mrs. Teresa Cozza, Mrs. Edith DiDonato, Gilda Salvino and Mrs. Lawrence Pfiester.

Band Parents of Township Meet; Jackets Given

The Band Parents of Rostraver Twp. met Monday at the Junior High School following a meeting of the executive board.

Reports were given by Mrs. DeAngelis, secretary; Mrs. Weightman, on tag day, and Alex Turda, ways and means chairman, on future projects, such as a round and square dance and skating party.

Following the meeting, the High School band entertained parents in the auditorium under the direction of John Pelar, who introduced those present and each selection. Tunes played included "West Point March," "Air for Bands", "Trombone Triumphant", "Oklahoma" and a medly of Christmas songs.

Pelar then presented senior band members and majorettes with band jackets. Receiving were Lonnie Koontz, Joan Nelson, Shirley Semich, Marcella Kerestes, Dolores Wranges, Edith Symons, Geneva Mosley, Lois Ahlborn, James Wilkie, Nelson Jackaway, Marilyn Milsom, Carol Boltze, Joan Buck, Rosemary Chalfant, Joyce Bazilwich, Eleanor Kurylo.

Lunch was served to those present by Mrs. Robert Streets, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Glenn Boyd, Mrs. John Yowanski, Mrs. Michael Nosiverich, Mrs. Sam Weightman and Mrs. Ray Budd.

King Mohammed Gets Look at U. S. Cowboys

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — King Mohammed V of Morocco gets a close look today at American cowboys in the Rio Grande Valley going about their daily chores on the world's biggest ranch.

The touring Arab leader was scheduled to get his introduction to the American range tradition on the biggest ranch of them all, the fabulous King Ranch which sprawls over six Texas counties and 104 years of Southwest history.

The Moroccan monarch was to get a look at only a small portion of the ranch, which is bigger than Rhode Island.

Ranch officials decided against scheduling a rodeo in favor of showing their royal visitor the day to-day routine of ranching. Cowhands were admonished to mind their manners, but told to go about their routine chores.

Laika Memorial

RAPALLO, Italy (UP)—A group of animal lovers announced today it will erect a memorial here to Laika, the dog sent into outer space aboard Russia's second earth satellite. The group plans to put up a small statue portraying the head of the Sputnik dog and a plaque recalling how Laika died to help man conquer space. The memorial will be in the dog cemetary of this Riviera resort.

Pin Money Up

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower has authorized an increase in the duty rate on imported safety pins from 22½ to 35 per cent, effective Dec. 30.

Many Guests at L. Peroney Home

Thanksgiving dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mr. Leonard Perony included a number of out-of-town guests. They were:

Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins, Finleyville; Mr. and Mrs. William McWreathe and son, Van, Canonsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Humbert Peroney, Mr. and Mrs. George Waggett and children, Bobby, Frances and Barry, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Echart and children, David, Linda, Cathy and Randy, and Bruce and Brad Peroney, all of R. D., Belle Vernon.

Project Club to Present Gifts

The Project Club of Lynnwood met at the home of Theresa Betwy, spending the evening working on carpenter and crayon aprons to be sent to a children's home.

Foam Rubber stuffed toys have been completed, it was announced. At next Thursday's meeting, the group will wrap the gifts and take them to the home. The women will also take along baked cookies and gifts for the two children each member had selected in a drawing.

Lunch was served by the hostess and the door prize was won by Hilda Boltze. Others present were Virginia Waggett, Mary Peroney, Ethel Echart and Marga Summers.

Rostraver P. T. A. Meeting Monday

The regular monthly meeting of Rostraver Parent-Teacher Association will be held Monday in the High School auditorium. Mother-daughter night will be observed. Tri-Hi-Y members will be in charge of the program.

Holiday Guests

Mr. and Mrs. William Gill, Vesta, spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smock, R.D., Belle Vernon. Also visiting the latter were Mr. Smock's brother, Marion, Gary Ind., and son Robert, Greenville.

Special Service At Fells Church Held Recently

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Fells Church had charge of the Thanksgiving offering service Sunday. Mrs. George Naylor was leader.

Morning prayer was said by Mrs. Herbert Howenstine with choral response by the Fells choir. The group also sang 'Praise the Lord". Dallas Winchell played an organ selection, "Pilgrim's Progress" and Mrs. Danny Wassilchalk sang "I Will Pilot Thee".

Mrs. Herbert Schulz served as usher and the group's president, Mrs. James Phythyon, offered the dedication prayer. The message was given by Mrs. J. A. Goiser, Irwin.

The Rev. W. S. Van Ryn closed the service with benediction.

The food brought to the church will be given to the Home for the Aged; a W. S. C. S. project.

Hungarians Have Weekly Party

The Hungarian Ladies Auxiliary weekly card party was held Tuesday.

Stella Kerekes won in 500, while euchre winners were Elizabeth Marciniak and Elidabeth Nescot, who also won the door pprize.

Lunch was served by Mary Trembush, chairman, assisted by Christine Drotor. The next party will be held Monday at 8 p. m. at the hall. The public is invited.

Plastic Adhesive Tape New

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A new transparent plastic adhesive tape, a quick method of detecting hearing loss and a new minute test for disease are among our most recent advances in medicine and health protection.

The new adhesive tape helps eliminate unsightly bandages, since it is practically invisible when applied to the skin. Nor does its dull surface reflect any light, thus blending with the appearance of the skin.

It reportedly is stronger than other adhesive tapes and yet is as light and flexible as the skin it covers.

All in all, it appears that transparent tape will make things a lot more pleasant for those who have to use tape to bind bandages or dressings.

A new instrument, "Oto-Chek," can be used for quickly determining hearing impairment. It tests only at 4,000 cycle frequency and at fixed intensity levels.

Many doctors say that single frequency testing technique is ideal for use in industry, schools, the armed forces, doctors' offices and other locations where a rapid method of determining hearing impairment is desirable.

They say groups can be tested accurately by response to 4,000 cycle frequency. The loss at 4,000 cycles, they say, will be no greater than the loss at lower frequencies which involve speech range.

Clinical trials indicate the new Rapid Plasma Reagin test is much faster, more economical and no less accurate than standard serum tests for detection of syphillis. The test measures reactivity in unheated plasma in a matter of minutes.

Such a procedure would be valuable in mass blood testing programs and in on-the-spot testing of transient populations.

Fred Astaire Makes TV Debut Tomorrow

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Fred Astaire, long a TV holdout, makes his video debut Sunday night, but he'll leave his dancing shoes at home.

The loose-limbed star has made 30 movies, all of which depended heavily on his hoofing. Now he's jittery about a danceless appearance.

A dedicated perfectionist, Fred is afraid viewers will feel shortchanged if he plays it straight.

"People always expect me to dance," he said, relaxing over an old fashioned cocktail in his home. "But I'm hoping they won't demand the same things from TV they do from movies.

Every Dance Original

"I've never attempted television before because the lack of time for preparation makes TV terrifically difficult for a dancer.

"Every time I dance I try a new approach. It is not something that can be done easily nor very often. All my dances are original. I never repeat anything."

As star of "Imp On A Cobweb Leash" for "General Electric Theater" on CBS, Astaire will play a stuffy businessman who kicks over the traces to have a little fun.

"The script doesn't call for dancing," he went on. "I chose this show because the story was fresh and well-written.

"I've had many offers to perform on TV, even for a regular series. But I don't believe anyone in movies should have a weekly show. It's not good for them. And I refused to travel the guest star circuit. No one can do his best that many times a year.

Lengthy Preparation

'It takes me about five weeks to formulate ideas for dance routines, to rehearse and film them. That kind of schedule is financially unrealistic and impractical for television.

"If I can't dance my best I'd rather not dance at all."

Astaire pointed out TV has yet to produce a genuine dance star.

"That's because a dancer cannot appear frequently enough and still hold an audience's attention. I've seen a lot of dancing on TV, especially chorus work, and I think they do quite well," he said.

"Someday I hope to dance on TV. An hour-long show, or a few half-hour things might be nice with nothing but dancing. But I should want them well spaced with plenty of time for rehearsals."

World of TV—

Margaret Truman on Big Record

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (UP) — The channel swim . . .

Margaret Truman, NBC - TV property, has a singing date with CBS-TV's "Big Record"—the date is Dec. 18 . . . "Let's Face It," a show that was supposed to replace "Strike It Rich" on CBS - TV in January, now has been replaced itself—"Dotto," an audience participation affair, is the new pinch-hitter.

NBC-TV wants "Sally" to leave its alley — the network feels the low ratings of the Joan Caulfield show are hurting the ratings of Steve Allen who follows "Sally" on Sundays . . . Edward Bennett Williams, lawyer for such characters as Frank Costello, is skedded for a Mike Wallace ABC-TV interview Dec. 14.

Joke: There are so many westerns on TV nowadays that viewers are beginning to get saddlepated. Unjoke.

Guy Mitchell's ABC-TV sponsor has told the network he'd like a show that would be beamed more at a female audience . . . Phil Silvers took his flu and his wife to Orlando and Miami Beach, Fla., for a six-weeks vacation.

Amateur Hour Doomed

NBC-TV is juggling its schedule: A nighttime version of "Truth or Consequences" will move into the "Mark Saber" spot which will move to the "Outlook" spot which will move to the "My Friend Flicka" spot which will move to the "Amateur Hour" spot which will move to oblivion.

Walt Disney's Dec. 4 "Disneyland" entry, "Mars and Beyond" will be the most expensive show in the history of ABC-TV—It cost Disney $400,000. He expects to recoup on reruns and possible theatre showings.

Bob Taylor On TV

If ABC - TV moves its "American Bandstand" show to a Saturday night slot, it will shift "West Point Story" from its Tuesday niche into the vacant "Bandstand" spot . . . MGM has given permission to Robert Taylor to play his first dramatic role on TV—Taylor reports for a "Thin Man" episode, "The Scene Stealer" next week.

And Lisa Kirk, taking note of all those oat-burners on TV, wonders if sponsors really know their oats. Also unjoke.

NEW YORK (UP)— The National Labor Relations Board has fohnd the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers guilty of an unfair labor practice in the jurisdictional dispute which turned out the lights on a CBS telecast last April. The board said the electrical union was not justified in insisting its members be assigned to light the scheduled telecast of the Antoinete Perry Awards ceremonies instead of members of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes.

Office Can Be Built in Basement

The base ment of a home, if it has an outside entrance, is an excellent place for the office of a professional man or salesman who has his headquarters at home. It provides a convenient place for after-hour work and privacy for conferences with clients.

Constructing such an office is an easy job that can be completed in his spare time by the businessman himself. Use of Masonite hardboards is recommended in many places because it is easy to handle and the large panels go into place quickly. Also, the various plain and textured panels are ideal for numerous uses such as wall surfaces, wardrobes, and storage closets, room dividers and even desks.

Use Paneling

The home office can be given a dignified and distinctive appearance by paneling it with two or more different types of hardboards. For instance, one wall can be finished with "Peg-Board" panels on which can be displayed literature and products connected with the business. Other walls can be given a wainscot treatment by paneling the top half with smooth-surfaced Presdwood and the bottom half with a textured hardboard such as Leatherwood or Seadrift.

Hardboard panels, because they have no grain or knots, take and hold paint and other finishes well. A two-tone effect can be obtained when using the textured panels by applying a coat of dark paint, wiping with a lint-free cloth, and then applying a coat of lighter paint.

Because of its tough, smooth surface, Tempered Presdwood is ideal for use of desk tops and other work surfaces as well as cabinets and walls.

Drawings showing how to build and furnish an office in the home can be obtained by writing a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting free plan No. AE-336.

More Natural Materials in Use

Notice anything new and different about the homes of today? Of course, it's the revival of natural materials used for their intrinsic decorative value.

Handsome woods like western red cedar used in paneling and cabinetry are no longer being covered with layers of paint.

Clear varnish does it nowadays, so the wood's depth of grain and texture remains visible to lend its rich, quiet elegance to contemporary abodes.

Glued Wood Is More Fire-resistant

Wood, which burns when in small pieces, becomes amazingly fire-resistant when glued together in heavy arches or beams, or when used in heavy timbers in natural form.

An intense heat will buckle and distort exposed steel beams, but only chars over wood. This is especially true of Douglas fir, one of the most widely used structural lumbers.

CHRISTMAS MAGIC—It's easy to make a sparse Christmas tree full and beautiful by drilling holes in the trunk at open spots with an electric drill and inserting additional branches. It's quick, no-fuss job with an electric tool such as this recently-developed speed drill, which has attachments for jigsawing, sanding, and polishing. This same drill, with jigsaw attached, was used to cut out the hardboard Santa Claus and sleigh which this young housewife plans to use, with similarly-made reindeer, as an under-the-tree or mantel decoration.

Continuity Key to The Home Beautiful

Key to the home beautiful is continuity of decorative scheme, according to Burton Goodrich, member of the American Institute of Architects, and a prominent western architect.

Many homes have a complete lack of continuity, he observed. One room may not have any identifying features which make it belong to the home, and some rooms are even a hodge podge of several decorative plans.

"Actually, continuity is a relatively simple thing to achieve," he said, "for a home will take on unity of purpose and charming atmosphere if one material is repeated consistently throughout."

The surest way to develop a central theme for a home, he said is to use an identifiable material, such as west coast hemlock lumber, throughout the home. It can be used with great success for paneling, cabinets, built-ins, and its reappearance from room to room gives the closeness of unity, and yet a fluid spaciousness results from the repetition.

The trick, according to the prominent architect, is to play variations on the theme by changing accents of color and texture to get individuality in each room. Hemlock paneling takes on a cozy, welcoming personality when certain textural accents are used: the rugged contrast of stone in a fireplace or planter, for example.

This same hemlock paneling can become ultra-sophisticated in the living room when different accents of color and texture are introduced. A wall of vertical paneling, say, will be greatly complimented by a wall of sliding glass doors set in wood frames. Another wall may be covered with a textured paper or even flat paint and so serve as accent. On the fourth wall, the accent may be repeated, or the hemlock may make another appearance in built-in bookcases and cabinets.

Cabinet work in the kitchen and built-ins in bedrooms and utility rooms continue the theme, and again variations on color and texture mark individualism room by room.

Use of wood for the home's exterior carries the idea one step further, continued Goodrich. Decks of Douglas fir 2x4s, spaced a quarter-inch apart to allow water run-off.

Plumbing Makes American Homes Safest, Most Sanitary in World

Couples buying their "dream house" often are amazed — and more than a little suspicious — at the number of pipes hidden behind walls and under floors. They wonder if all that piping is necessary.

Each pipe has a purpose, reports the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association. And the purpose of today's plumbing system is to make the American home the most safe and sanitary in the world.

The maze of piping results from extensive research. It makes America the only country in the world where city-dwellers can count on safe drinking water.

Throughout the United States scientifically designed plumbing systems are required by law. These plumbing codes prohibit faulty systems which might pollute drinking water. They protect the public from unskilled "handyman" plumbers who lack proper tools and technical knowledge necessary to make safe installations.

Because of research and plumbing codes, bathrooms have shown a marked improvement in recent years. A short time ago unpleasant odors could escape from sewers, entering the house through drain pipes. Protests from housewives led to the development of traps (water seals). Ever noticed the "S" bend in the drain under the sink or lavatory? That's a trap. A portion of it stays filled with water and prevents sewer gas, insects, and vermin from entering the house.

While the addition of traps was a major improvement in household plumbing, they proved insufficient. When housewives finished dishes and removed the sink stopper, water rushed down the pipe, compressing air in the drainage system. Sometimes this sudden change of air pressure inside the drain pipe would "blow out" water seals in the system's other traps. And, frequently, the siphon action of water rushing down the drain sucked the trap dry, leaving no water seal to protect the home.

The plumbing industry answered this problem with vents. These pipes, connected to the drainage system next to each trap, often mystify homeowners. Actually, they supply air to the drain, breaking the siphon action of the rushing water and preserving the water seal.

Vent pipes are connected to the soil stack — the large pipe which runs up through the roof. Thus, when there's excess sewer gas anywhere in your plumbing system, it can escape through the soil stack into the air above the house.

Additional safety devices are used in many areas. These include vacuum breakers, used mostly on toilets to guard against pollution; grease traps to keep grease from causing stoppage; sump pumps to prevent flooding of basement below sewer levels; and back-water valves in the main sewer to eliminate back-seepage from the sewer main during floods or peak-use conditions.

As can be seen, the home plumbing system, rather than a puzzling, complex structure, is a friendly servant. It guarantees safe, sanitary water for drinking and cooking, bathing and washing, and scores of other needs. And it can last a lifetime with proper care.

In "the good old days" plumbing was a lot simpler. But it could give none of this modern safety and comfort.

Today's plumbing has come a long way. And manufacturers, plumbing contractors, and local officials are working together constantly toward even greater improvements.

Full Basement

A full basement doubles usable space in a home and costs only 10 to 15 percent more than for a house built on a slab.
